ORACLE . . . Knowledge, Wisdom

Depth in Math

How many of you have ever really given the meaning of the word oracle any thought? Let's look at the definition which the 1964 Oracle will try to indicate to you. We will use the word oracle as meaning the wisdom and knowledge which enlightens men's minds and stimulates ideas.

Oracle means something different to each of you. To some, it is merely the name of the yearbook received each year. To others, it has a sentimental value because it has captured their high school days and through it these days may be relived again and again.

The 1964 Oracle would like to point out to you that the learning represented by the word oracle is present at Whitmer. Even though each student's range of knowledge is different, Whitmer has a place for everyone whether it be in business, home economics, social studies, industrial arts, science, mathematics, or language. As you grow older and wiser, your field of knowledge enlarges, and you use the education obtained at school as a basis for your life endeavors. We feel that Whitmer has the favorable academic climate necessary for you who want to travel from the darkness of ignorance into the light of knowledge and wisdom.

Mary Ann Fischer, who works in the principal's office, helps with the mailing which is only one of the many services she renders.

As a student assistant, Lynn Macklenar types many tests and forms for Mr. Abel in the auto mechanics shop.

Student Assistants

Student assistants contribute one hour each day to be of service to their school. They willingly perform many routine jobs for the various departments and help out wherever possible. Teachers, deans, counselors, and office secretaries all appreciate the time and energy these students volunteer. We should congratulate and be proud of the many student assistants who are doing such a fine job to help our school.

Sharon Hilyard runs off tests and worksheets for many teachers on the mimeograph machine in the business department.

Lab assistant, Don Anthony, checks the reagent bottles to make sure they are full.

Board of Education sets school policies .

Homer S. Nightingale—Superintendent

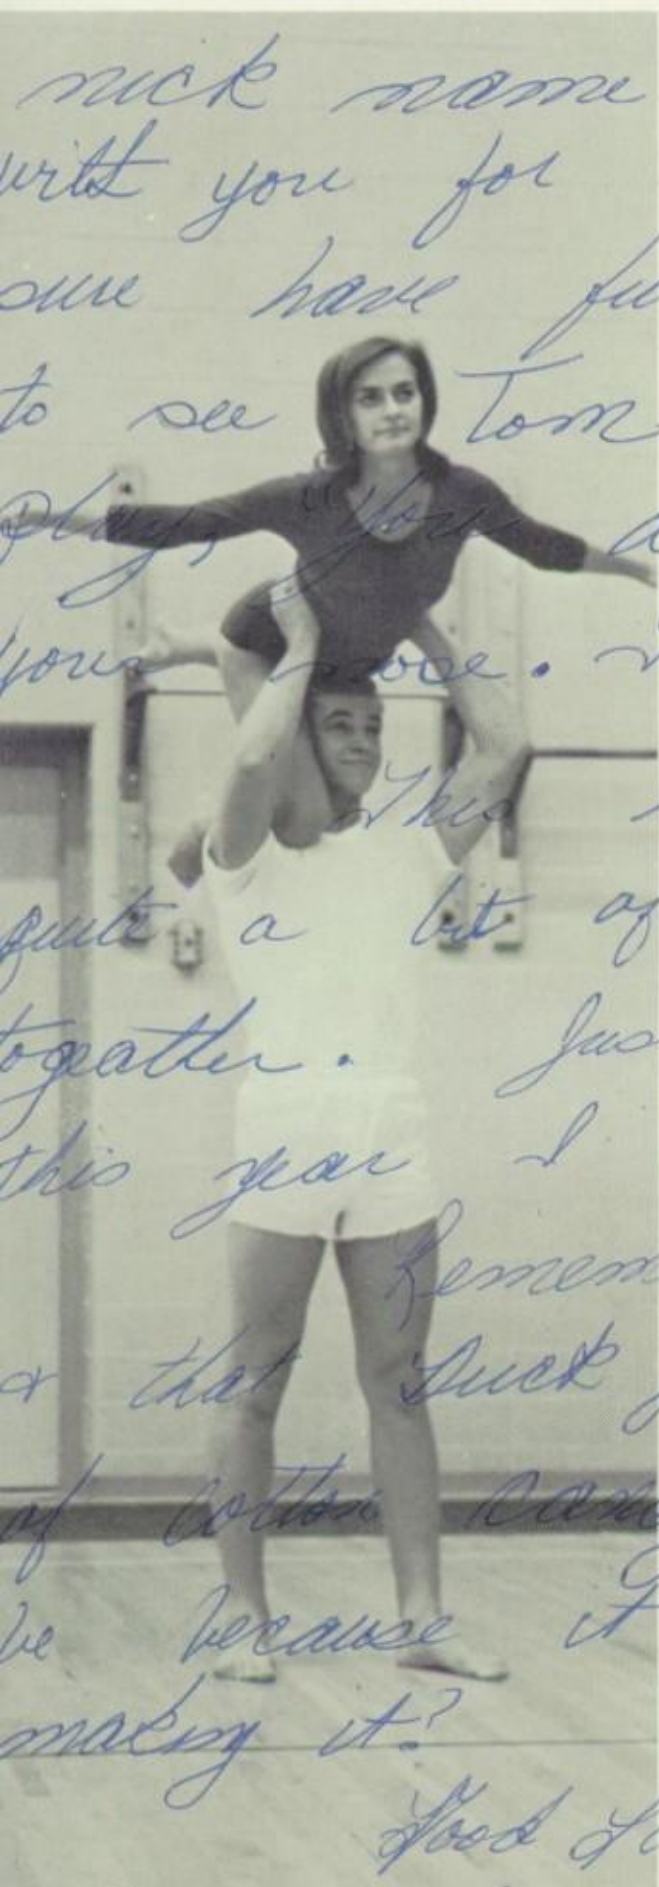

The responsibility of the board of education of Washington Township is to provide the students with the best facilities available for a good education. The board members do this by setting policies for the school system, by hiring the most qualified teachers, and by purchasing the finest educational supplies possible.

Mr. Homer Nightingale, as superintendent of Washington Local Schools, is the administrator who directs the instructional program for the entire school system. Mr. Nightingale is completing his twentieth year in the Washington Local Schools. He has held positions as elementary school principal, first principal of Washington Junior High, assistant superintendent, and for the last six years he has served as superintendent of our rapidly growing school system. Mr. Jack Meade, assistant superintendent for instruction, co-ordinates instruction at all levels in the schools in Washington Township. Mr. Meade, who has held this position for two years, has previously been a principal in an elementary school, a junior high school, and a senior high school. As clerk-treasurer of the board of education, Mr. Orra Benton must keep a financial accounting of all funds of the school system.

This year the school board served a school population of approximately 9800 students in one senior high school, two junior high schools, and twelve elementary buildings.

Linda,

In one more week you will be a senior and I will be out of school. It is hard to believe that we can be that old. I'll never forget all the fun we have had together in the last 15 years. Remember that day on the way home from Greenfield village & your grandmother said someone passed wind so I ~~rolled~~ rolled up the window. I was not ~~so~~ smart about 10 years ago. That still makes me laugh. Remember that time you decided to shave and you cut your self. I remember playing dolls with you and your little back yard swimming pool. We sure have done some pretty stupid thing since we have known each other. When we were learning to ski up to the cottage I'll bet we looked pretty funny. Some times we still do. Your nick name of R.C. will probly stick with you for quite a long time. I sure have fun when we went down to see Tom Jones. Can you still play, "You are my sunshine" on your voice. That sure was funny.

This last year we have had quite a bit of fun running around together. Just because I am graduating this year I hope our fun don't end.
Remember the Shorland carnivals,
& that Duck you had. We sure got plenty of cotton candy at the carnivals could it be because it was our mom's who was making it?

Good Luck R.C. in what ever you attempt to do with whatever or who ever you want.

Love,

Karen

Dave Pease breaks from a hand stand.

4909 enthusiastic spectators witness the skill

Hundreds of enthusiastic parents and alumni witnessed the performance of the 28th annual circus, under the direction of Mr. Donald Stacy.

The increase of participants made it necessary to add new acts bringing the total to twenty last year.

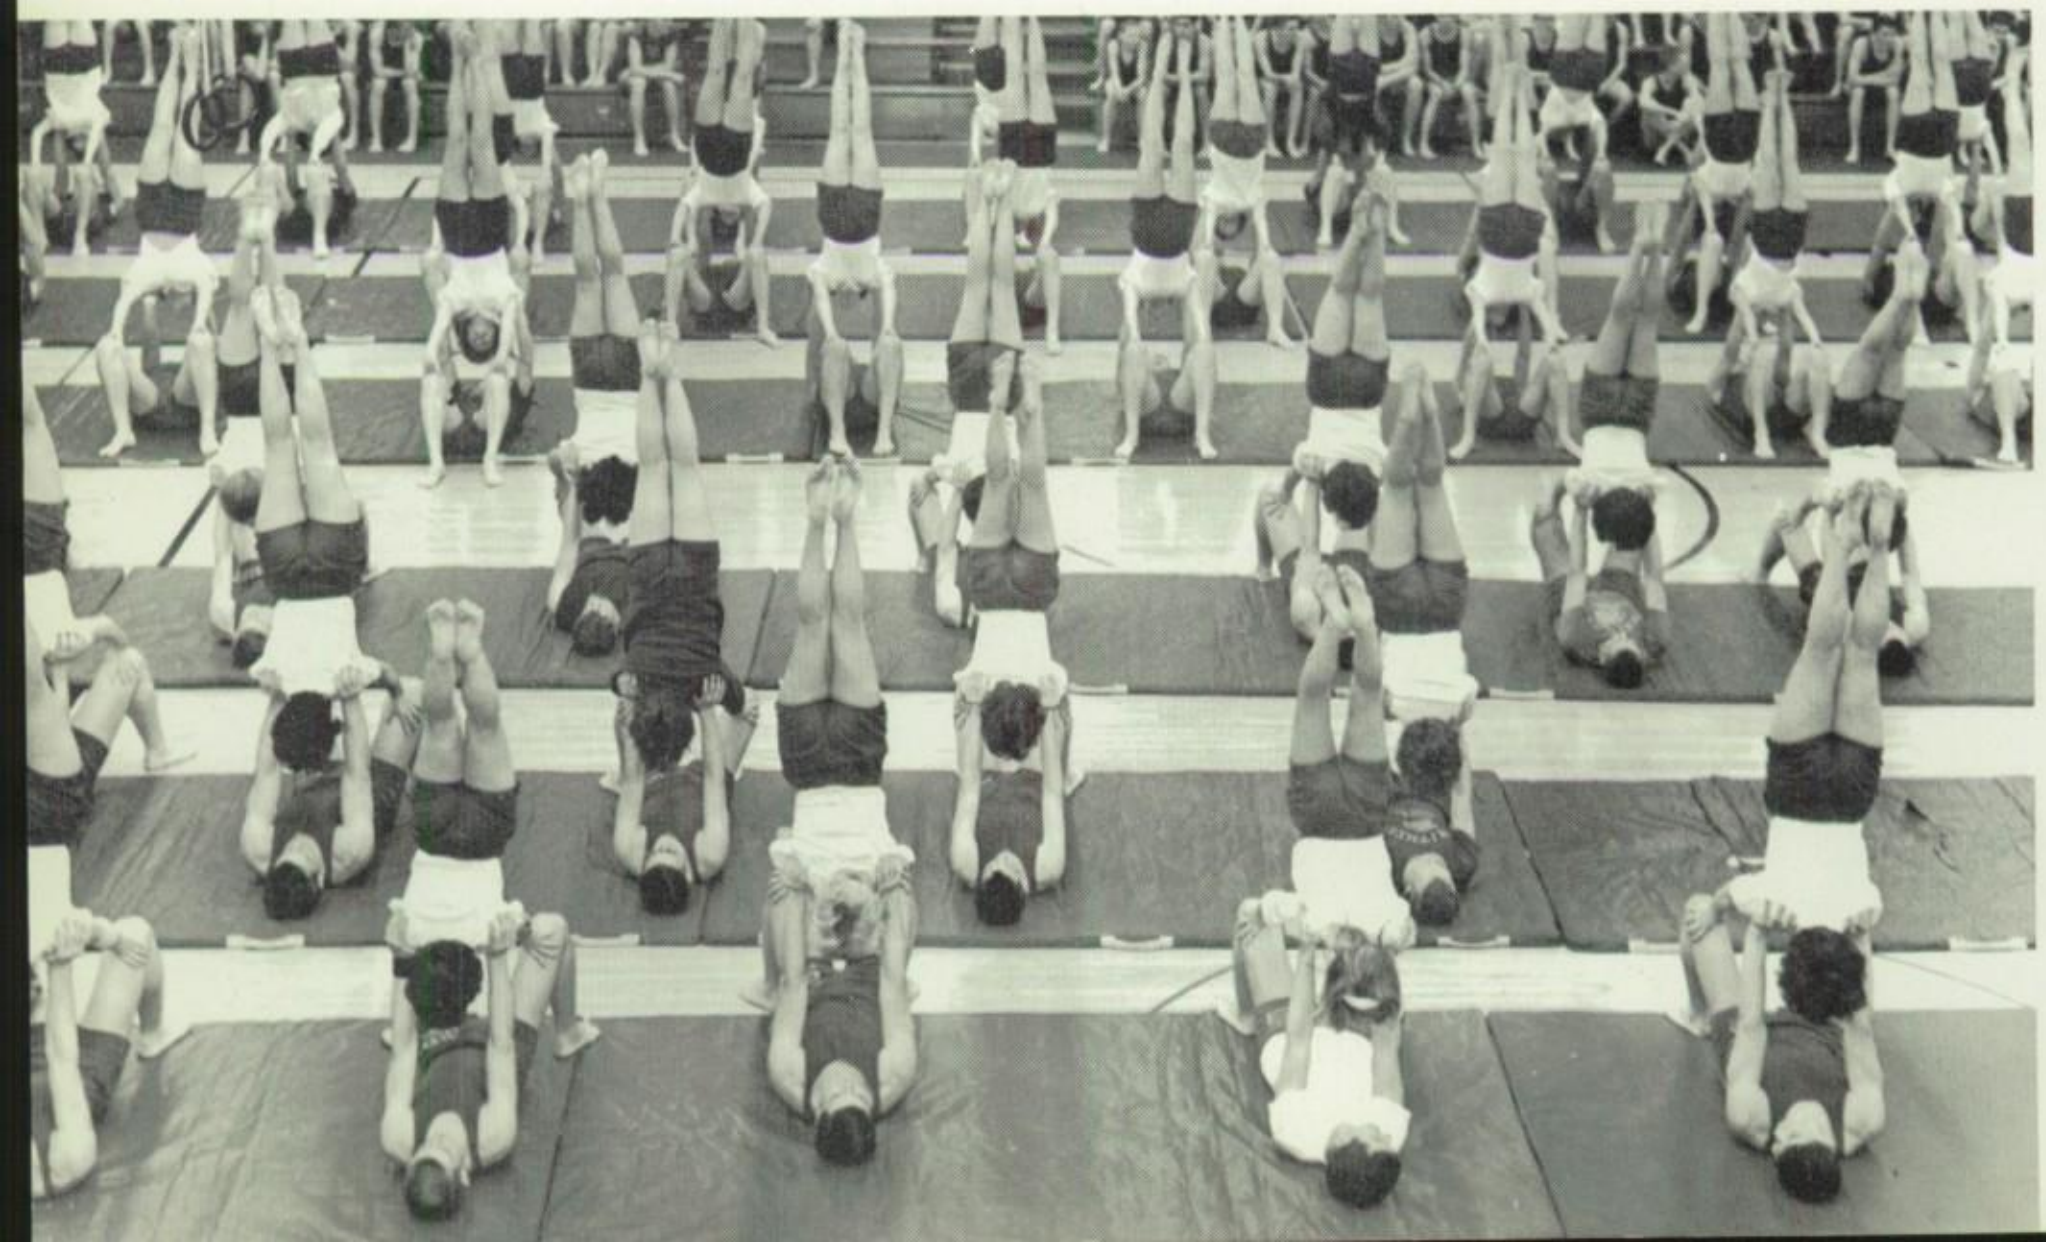

Three new acts were introduced in the 1963 circus. Kathy Whitesell and John Husted performed an adagio act setting difficult two-man stunts and ballet to music. Calisthenics was composed of girls who showed that exercises and basic tumbling could be set to rhythm. Also new this year was the senior modern jazz dance done to a portion of the "West Side Story" album.

Tension and excitement mounted as the acts continued, for the relays were next on the agenda. The seniors broke all standing records by earning an all time low of nine points.

After the relays, silence reigned as everyone awaited the ladders. Traditionally this is the last and most difficult act composed of only the best gymnasts.

An interesting pattern is displayed by the elementary co-eds.

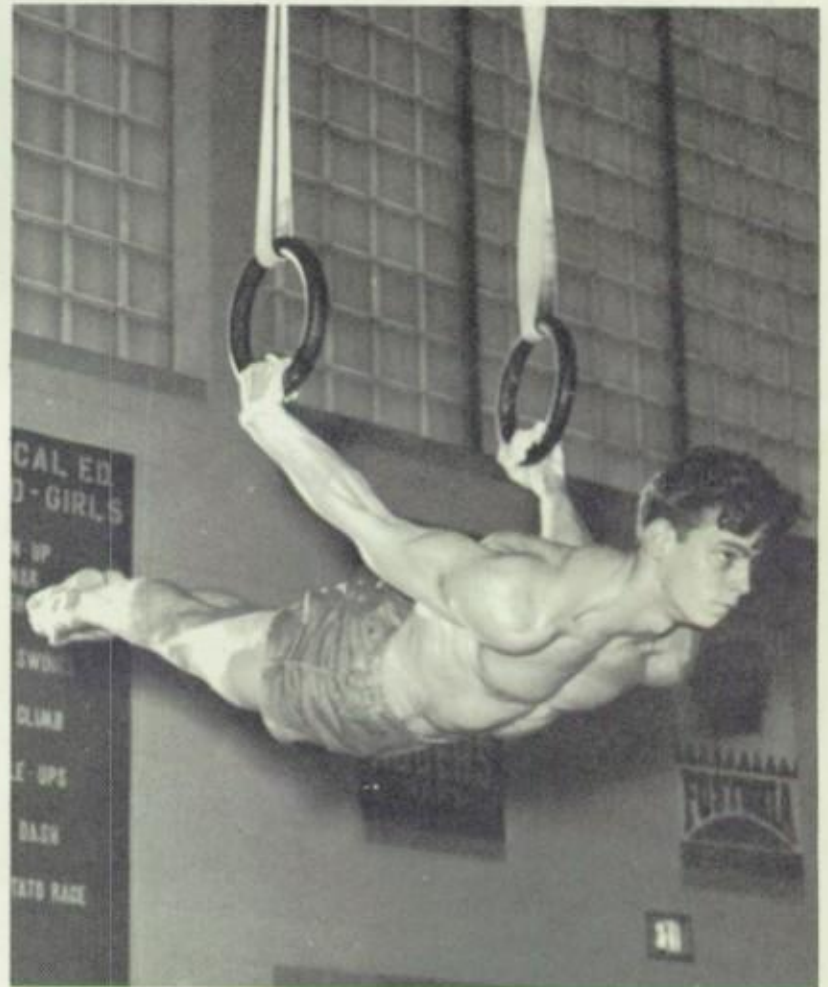

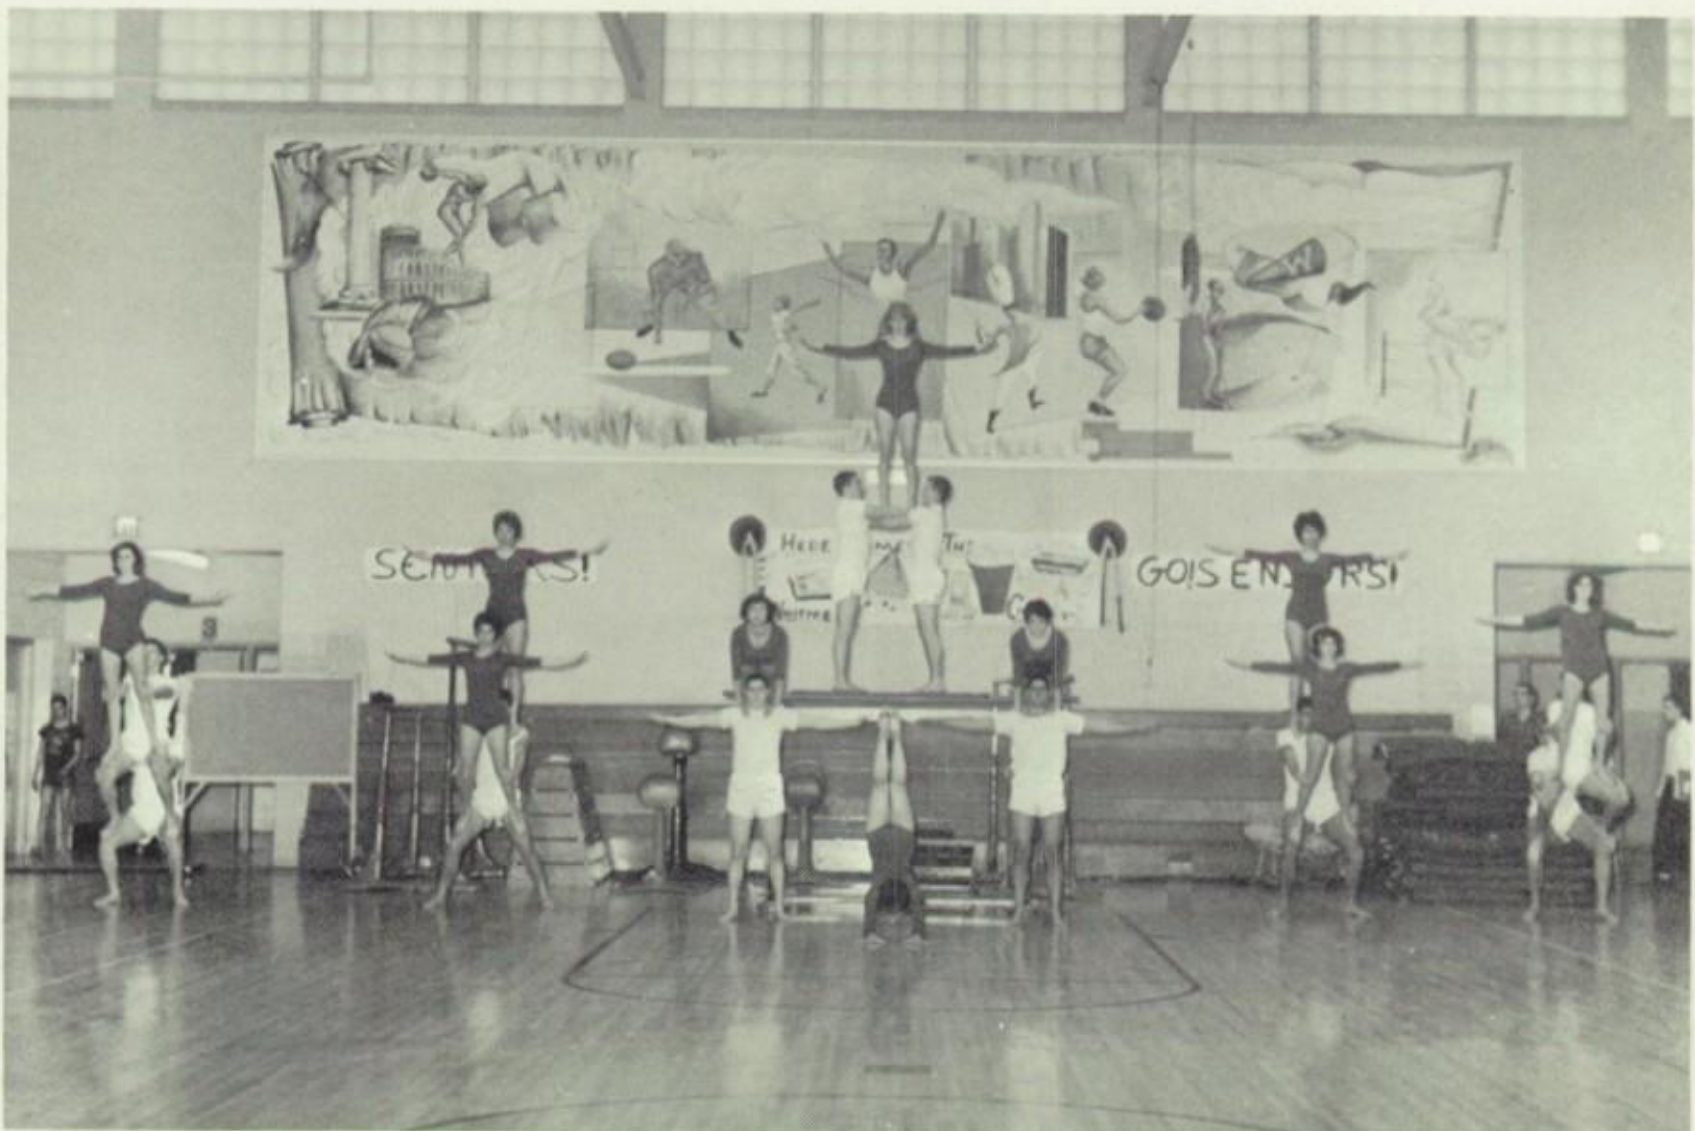

Poise and grace are learned from calisthenics.

of the 820 participants.

Bob Gerrie displays the form which won the state championship for him.

The ladder act is practiced for the last time at the dress rehearsal.

The opening scene is on Christopher Street.

Heartwarming comedy enthralls large audience.

To a real nice girl who was a lot of fun on school & a good friend to all.

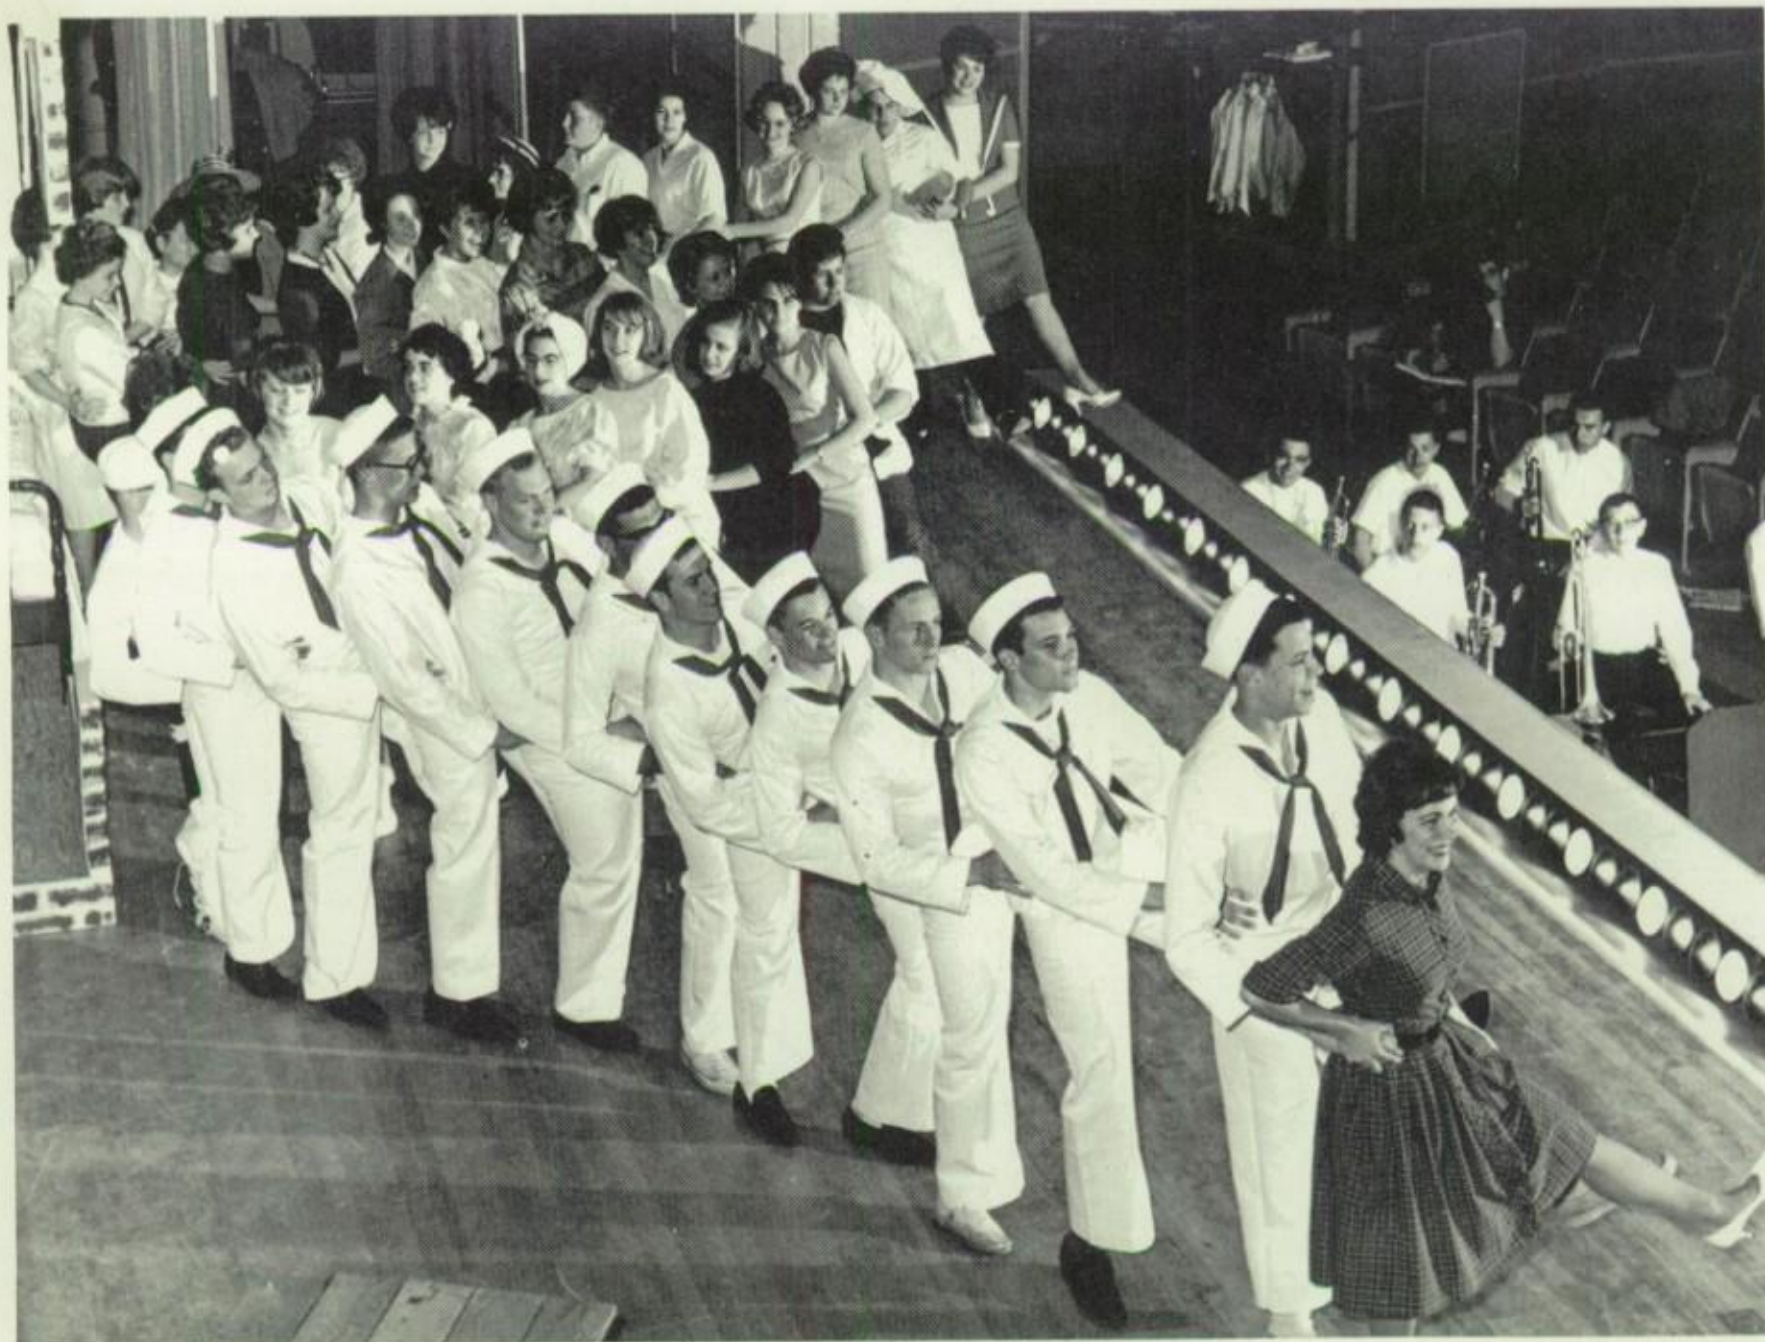

Wonderful Town, the third annual musical, was presented by Whitmer Senior High School in the first week of May. The realistic sets were designed by Mr. Paul Slovak, who with student director Sandra Kruse, supervised the entire production. This year the choreography was arranged by senior Annabelle Clark.

Wonderful Town is a story about two sisters from Ohio who settle down in a Greenwich Village basement in order to achieve successful careers in New York. Ruth, played by Kathy Drake, is the elder sister who has a driving ambition to be a writer. Eileen, played by Bette Bodley, is a flirt who does not mean any harm, but who can't help making men her slaves.

The two sisters encounter many hilarious experiences and meet several new acquaintances while in New York. They find that the glamorous city isn't so exciting as they had expected. However, when the curtain falls, Fate has brought a happy ending for all.

The Brazilian Navy upsets the daily routine of Greenwich Village.

Ruth and Eileen are startled by subway blasts.

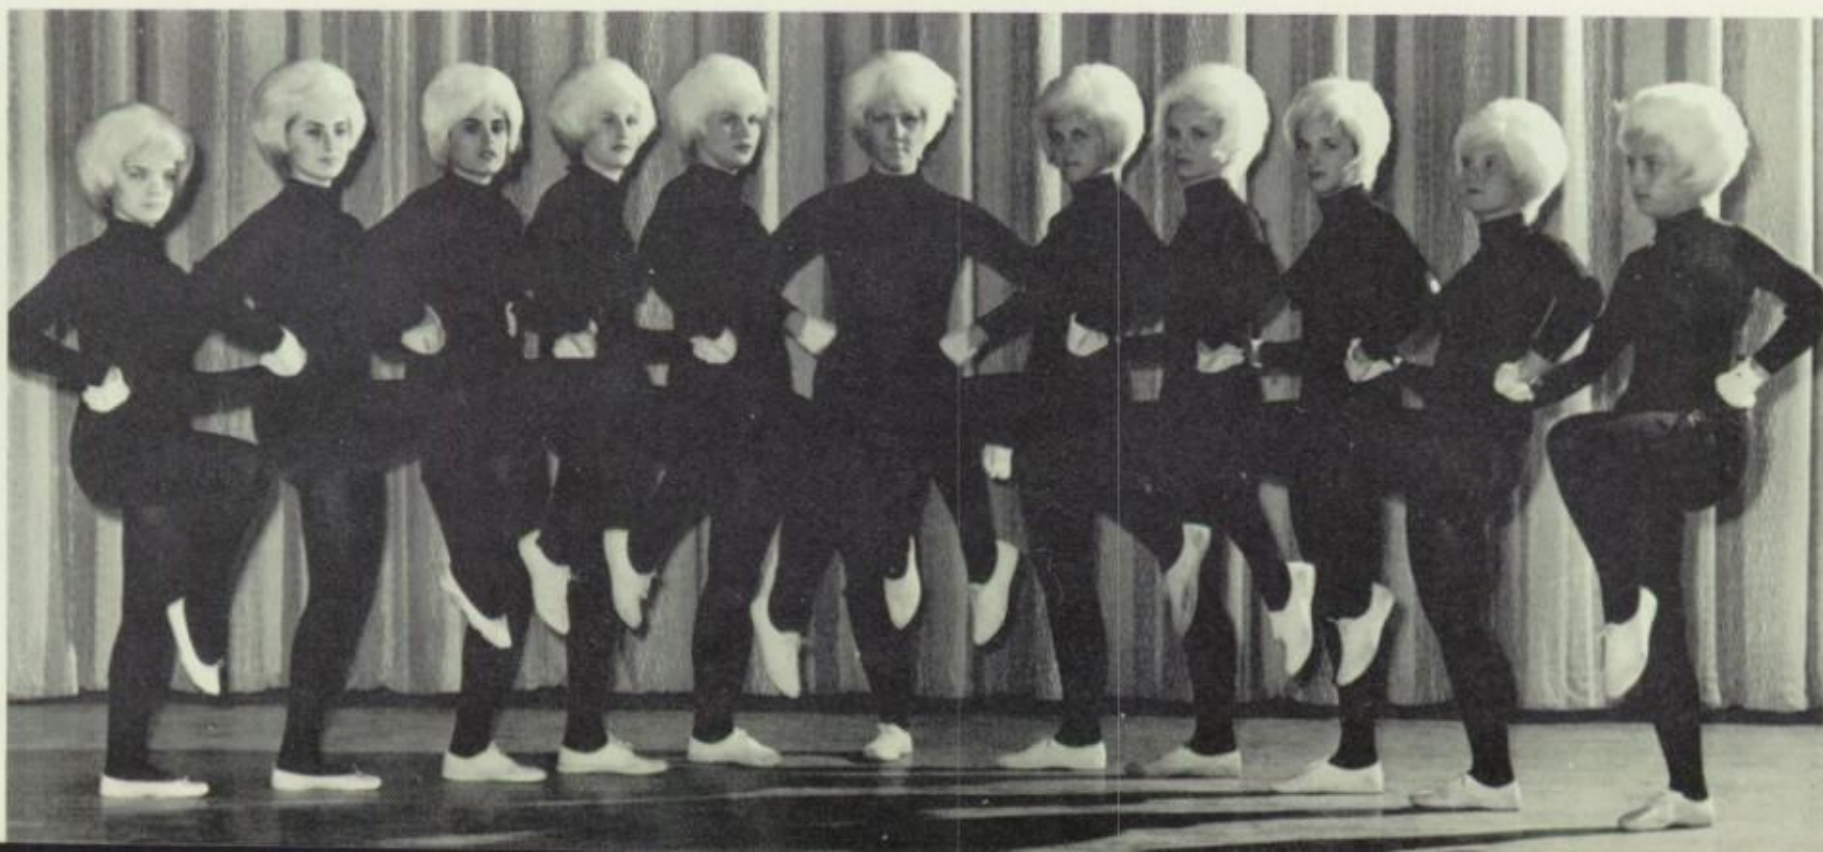

Violet expresses her contempt for Officer Lonigan.

Picturesque float portrays an autumn image.

Indian Summer was an appropriate theme for the 1963 Homecoming because of the extremely warm weather we enjoyed during October. The colorful float, the yellow mums decked with blue ribbons, and the well-trained band brought an air of anticipation to the already excited spectators. The game with the Springfield North Panthers created some tense moments as the score was 0-0 at the half.

During halftime the cars of the sophomore and junior attendants led the courtly procession. The most important moment came as Lorna Farnol, 1962 Queen, crowned Carol DeWees 1963 Homecoming Queen. The evening was climaxed with a 6-0 victory over our opponents.

On Saturday night the annual Royalty Ball was held in the gaily decorated school cafeteria where the Biscaynes and the Four Seniors provided the evening's entertainment.

The camera catches the look of surprise as Carol DeWees is pronounced 1963 Homecoming Queen.

O'Brien uses Big Brother's technique to persuade Smith to believe in the double plus good system.

"1984" depicts life in totalitarian state.

The senior class under the director JAlan Aufderheide and student director Karen Marlett, presented the dramatic production 1984. This play, set against an impressionistic background, dealt with life in a totalitarian state.

Winston Smith and Julia were normal people in love under abnormal conditions. These abnormalities were telescreens, thought police, and extermination for self-thought. People lived with "War is Peace," "Freedom is Slavery," and "Ignorance is Strength" as their mottoes. Big Brother, the head of state, tried to destroy all evidence of the past and the idea that man should think for himself.

No one likes to think that these circumstances will ever come about. Let us hope that they could only exist in the mind of one man, George Orwell.

Juniors amuse audience with humorous comedy.

An evening's entertainment was enjoyed by all who attended the junior class play, "Father's Been to Mars," which was directed by Mr. Leonard Kreinbrink. Larry Gibson, who portrayed Captain Galaxy on a children's television show, often played space patrol at home with his youngest daughter Corky. This caused Gloria, the older daughter, and her mother much embarrassment, so they dressed like moon girls and shot each other with space guns to embarrass father in front of one of his friends. The friend was J. P. Pierce, president of the broadcasting company, who had come to offer Mr. Gibson a vice-presidency with the radio and television station. Gloria's boyfriend, nephew of J. P., explained the hilarious situation to his uncle, and the play ended on a happy note.

Lovely queen reigns over underwater fantasy.

The beauty and mystery of the underwater world enveloped the juniors that attended the 1964 prom, Deep Sea Fantasy. Live goldfish, seaweed, fish nets, and unique ceiling decorations provided the atmosphere of the ocean floor. Johnny Knorr's band, which furnished the excellent music, played aboard the sunken ship. The 1963 prom queen, Darlene DeNune, crowned Tami Brondes as she sat on the throne of a giant pink clam shell. Her attendants were Pat Garvin, Leslie Martin, Debbie Rankin, and Cheryl Rockwell. In the years to come, many people will remember this snowy evening as a night of youthful gaiety, fun, and enchantment.

Seniors recall fond memories of Whitmer.

We entered Whitmer as the first class to be composed of graduates of both Washington and Jefferson Junior High Schools. At our first sophomore assembly, Mr. Kerlin and Mr. Bahna were introduced as our advisers. The officers who were elected made plans for our first money-making project, a candy sale. We participated in school events, and during basketball season, we could be seen wearing our bright yellow and white beanies to pep sessions.

In our junior year we were welcomed back by our adviser, Mr. Kerlin, and our new adviser, Mr. Schaeffer. Sue Stagg again represented our class at Homecoming. We were all disappointed when snow delayed the arrival of our class rings, but they did come in time for Christmas. At our junior prom, Polynesian Paradise, Darlene DeNune reigned as our lovely queen. The election of squires was a tradition started for the annual turnabout dance, and Rod Jenkins represented our class. Our hilarious junior play, No More Homework, brought hearty laughs from the audience. It portrayed the operation of a school when the duties of the administrators were assigned to members of the student council. During the Ohio Association of Student Councils' annual convention, we helped by registering delegates, acting as guides, and housing visitors. Warm weather and a desire to be outside made many juniors volunteer to work on our successful car wash.

Both Mr. Kerlin and Mr. Schaeffer welcomed us back in our senior year. Our class helped promote the school levy by distributing literature to local voters. We roared with laughter as Whitmer's coaches took part in a donkey basketball game against the Sylvania coaches. Members of the senior class were selected to ring the victory bell, a gift from the class of 1963, at athletic contests and pep sessions. Homecoming Queen Carol DeWees and her attendants watched the game from the beautiful float decorated in autumn colors. Our senior class play, 1984, was presented just before Christmas vacation. It gave a gruesome picture of what might happen to us in the future if a totalitarian form of government should take over the nation. "Big Brother" was the byword around our school for many weeks. At the turnabout dance David Pease was chosen as senior Knight. Our senior prom and our commencement climaxed the year. We will always remember with pleasure the happy days spent within the walls of Whitmer.

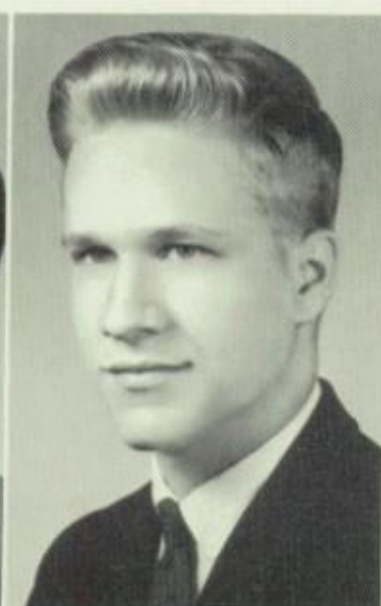

Blue and white caps add an interesting design to graduation.

In formations to music, Whitmer's marching

Senior Bill Deeter has completed his fourth year as drum major with the Panther marching band.

The Whitmer marching band began the year with a ten-day band camp prior to the opening of school. Band students practiced the marching routines which they used for "Instrumental Varieties of '64," their half-time show for the annual Band Night. The band performed in pre-game and half-time ceremonies at every home football game. Bandsmen attended a University of Michigan game in Ann Arbor to watch the Wolverine marching band in action. Later in the school year, the Panther band entertained during a half-time show for the Toledo Tornadoes' professional game.

After football season, two concert bands and two stage bands were formed. Several small combos were composed of students interested in playing popular music, Dixieland, and jazz. A pep band made up of a few boys from the marching band played at basketball pep sessions and at home basketball games.

Whitmer's band sent fourteen individuals to the district solo and ensemble auditions at Bowling Green State University. Never before has the school been represented so well by so many students.

Whitmer Fight Song

Send the team across the field
 Show them that Whitmer's here.
 Send the earth reverberating
 With a mighty cheer—
 RAH! RAH! RAH!
 Hit them hard and see how they fall.
 Never let that team get the ball.
 Hail, hail, the gang's all here,
 We're gonna beat——High tonight!!

On to victory! We are here to conquer.
 On to victory! We are here to win.
 So, let's go, let's fight, let's win tonight.

Send the team across the field
 Show them that Whitmer's here.
 Send the earth reverberating
 With a mighty cheer—
 RAH! RAH! RAH!
 Hit them hard and see how they fall.
 Never let that team get the ball.
 Hail, hail, the gang's all here,
 We're gonna beat——High tonight!!

by singing traditional melodies and hymns.

Any boy and any junior or senior girl who can sing is welcome to join Whitmer's fine a cappella choir. The choir members enjoy exploring, learning, and performing good choral literature before many public groups. The glee club is composed of sophomore girls. At Christmas time, the choir and the glee club gave a public concert in the school auditorium. A gay holiday program was presented to the students by the choir, the glee club, and the band just before Christmas vacation. Later, choir members sang at a Christmas banquet given for the old folks of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

This year the choir sang in the Lucas County Music Festival, which included choirs from high schools throughout the county. The festival, which was held in the Peristyle at the Toledo Museum of Art, was directed by Roy Hilty. The combined choirs sang four numbers and each participating choir sang two selections.

The final and most impressive moments for the senior choir members were their appearances at the senior assembly, at the Baccalaureate program, and at commencement, which was their last time to sing with the Whitmer a cappella choir.

With anticipation, choir members hurry to dress for a concert.

Student Council endeavors to make Whitmer's

The colorfully decorated lobby attracted many students during the Christmas season.

Our active student council is an important link between the faculty and the students of Whitmer. Its purpose is to improve and strengthen this relationship. It also strives to boost school spirit and to promote good citizenship. The executive council has a membership of six representatives from each class in addition to a president and a vice-president who are elected by the entire student body. The large general council is composed of one representative from each homeroom.

This year the council participated in local activities and those of the Toledo Area Student Council. Senior Jeff Wagner ably represented us as president of the area council, and Carol Bristol was our choice for queen at the area council's annual dance.

A successful leadership workshop for club officers and student council members was held in the fall. The workshop was helpful to all participants. Student Council sponsored the Royalty Ball at Homecoming and its annual Turnabout Dance. At Christmas time, council members decorated the front lobby with the traditional tree. When Bedford's student council challenged Whitmer to a rivalry over a pig-skin, our council gladly accepted the challenge. Whitmer students worked on the annual March of Dimes and the Easter Lily drives, and they organized the WTOD milk bottle cap contest which ended with Whitmer in second place. They also supervised the ringing of the victory bell at all school events. Members ended the year by conducting class and council elections, and already new officers are planning activities for next fall.

Members participate in area quiz contests.

The Junior Council on World Affairs, a city-wide organization, strives to develop student interest in world affairs. The Whitmer club has speakers and discussions at club meetings, and once a month, members visit other high schools for area meetings, movies, and discussions. Members also participated in an area Quiz Bowl similar to the television "College Bowl." Money earned from this quiz program was donated to Project Hope, which helps underprivileged people in Asia.

Youth for Christ, affiliated with the Toledo area Youth for Christ movement, strives to develop Christian fellowship among its members. Club members attended area rallies and heard such speakers as Bruce Benson, Toledo Director of Youth for Christ, and Mrs. Stemple, a missionary intern. Whitmer club members entered the YFC quiz contest, attended a sunrise breakfast, and took part in a Billy Graham rally. Locally, members enjoyed a sledding party and a spring banquet.

Future teachers obtain experience helpful

Each member of Future Teachers of America must be a senior or junior, must maintain a C average, and must be interested in a teaching career. Members grade papers, substitute, and perform other duties for their assigned teachers. On student government day the FTA members took over all teachers' classes. They served as guides for the annual Open House and the PTA College Information Night, and they served as timekeepers at the third annual Whitmer Debate Tournament. Senior members heard Mr. Kerlin speak on the psychology in teaching, and they attended several local FTA workshops and the first of a series of educational programs at the University of Toledo. Socially, senior members held a tea for the teachers, a dance in February, a skating party, and a slumber party. Junior members entertained the student body with a skit during a basketball pep session. They also held an after game dance and worked at the refreshment stand during one of the basketball games.

Club prepares business leaders of tomorrow.

The purpose of the Future Business Leaders of America is to help develop leadership in today's business world. Juniors and seniors who are taking a business course are eligible for membership. This active club had several projects this year. Members gave a Halloween party at an orphanage, sang Christmas carols at an old folks home, and opened a post office before Christmas to deliver Christmas cards for students. Members practiced their business skills when they typed and did mimeographing for other clubs. They participated in the annual Bowling Green Convention and climaxed the year with their spring banquet.

FNA and FHA expand interest in professions.

The Future Nurses of America is open to any student interested in a medical career. The purpose of this club is to stimulate this interest and to help it grow by informing members of various opportunities in the medical field. The annual visits to the Sunshine Home and St. Anthony's Villa were among the projects this year. Activities included an after game dance, a bowling party, and a spring banquet.

Each member of the Future Homemakers of America must have had or be taking homemaking. The club's purpose is to promote interest in home economics and international good will and to better its members. Service projects for the year were a Christmas basket, a gift to the home economics department, and a donation to the Whitmer Scholarship Fund. Yearly activities included a formal initiation, a Christmas party, and an international dinner.

Panthers pause to read about school events.

The Panther's Pause is the popular Whitmer student newspaper. The news staff, composed of juniors and seniors, is ever alert for interesting stories which may develop. New to the paper this year were the colored editions for Valentine's Day and Easter and the Christmas issue with its Christmas card supplement.

Many interesting items such as the contests promoting school sports programs, Panther Prominents, and the Panther Pacemaker, a featured car of the week, appeared throughout the year. Andy, the ant, who had the latest gossip, kept the students up-to-date.

In the spring, the paper staff attended the BGSU annual journalism day where the staff competed for awards in writing, editing, and photography.

Staff toils long hours to meet deadlines.

The distribution day of the Oracle, Whitmer's outstanding yearbook, is one of the most popular days of the year. Students eagerly wait in line to receive their copy from an excited yearbook staff.

The staff members, juniors and seniors who have been carefully selected for their ability and interest, work diligently throughout the year. Their greatest reward is the enthusiastic acceptance of their creation by their fellow students.

This year's staff members began their work last spring. Several training sessions were held after school, and members sold advertising during the summer months to local businessmen.

Each year the Oracle is judged by the National Scholastic Press Association for editorial excellence, picture quality, and general interest. Last year the 1963 Oracle received a first class rating which is one of the top ratings in the judging.

Council hosts annual library conference.

To be a member of Library Council, a student must maintain a C average and be able to work in the library one period each day. Council members check books in and out, keep materials readily available to students and teachers for reference purposes, and prepare the many colorful exhibits in the display case across from the library. This year the council hosted the Northwestern Ohio Librarians' Assistants' Conference. During the conference two Whitmerites were elected as officers of this organization. Later in the year, the council sponsored the "Book-Worm Wiggle," an after game dance. The successful Christmas tea which was held in the gaily decorated library put everyone in a holiday mood. Other social activities included a Halloween party and the annual spring picnic held in honor of graduating seniors who were on the council.

Gay holiday decorations set the mood for the library council's annual Christmas tea.

Biology Club explores fields of science.

Any student who has had or is taking biology is eligible to join the Biology Club. The main purpose of this club is to promote interest in problems of biological interest. This year the club has been doing special work in the green house as a service project. The members studied conservation by the use of movies and listening to naturalists from Secor Park. It has been customary for the club to have an annual spring field trip to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor where the members can tour the greenhouses, the grounds, and the Natural History Museum.

Minds challenged by research and strategy.

The Junior Engineering Technical Society is open to any student interested in the physical sciences. Its purpose is to give these students a chance to explore this field by working on related projects. Early in the year the members completed an automatic sprinkling system for the biology greenhouse. Their main project was building a ten inch reflecting telescope for a school observatory. The club earns money for its projects by renting out its sound equipment for after game dances.

Whitmer's chess team was re-organized this year, and anyone who is interested in playing chess may participate. Each week members met after school to compete with each other for their board positions. They participated in chess matches throughout the local area in the Toledo League. Despite the fact that the club was new and the members were inexperienced in competition, the team won many boards and finished in fourth place in the Morphy Division of the Toledo Chess League.

Honoraries acknowledge students' interests.

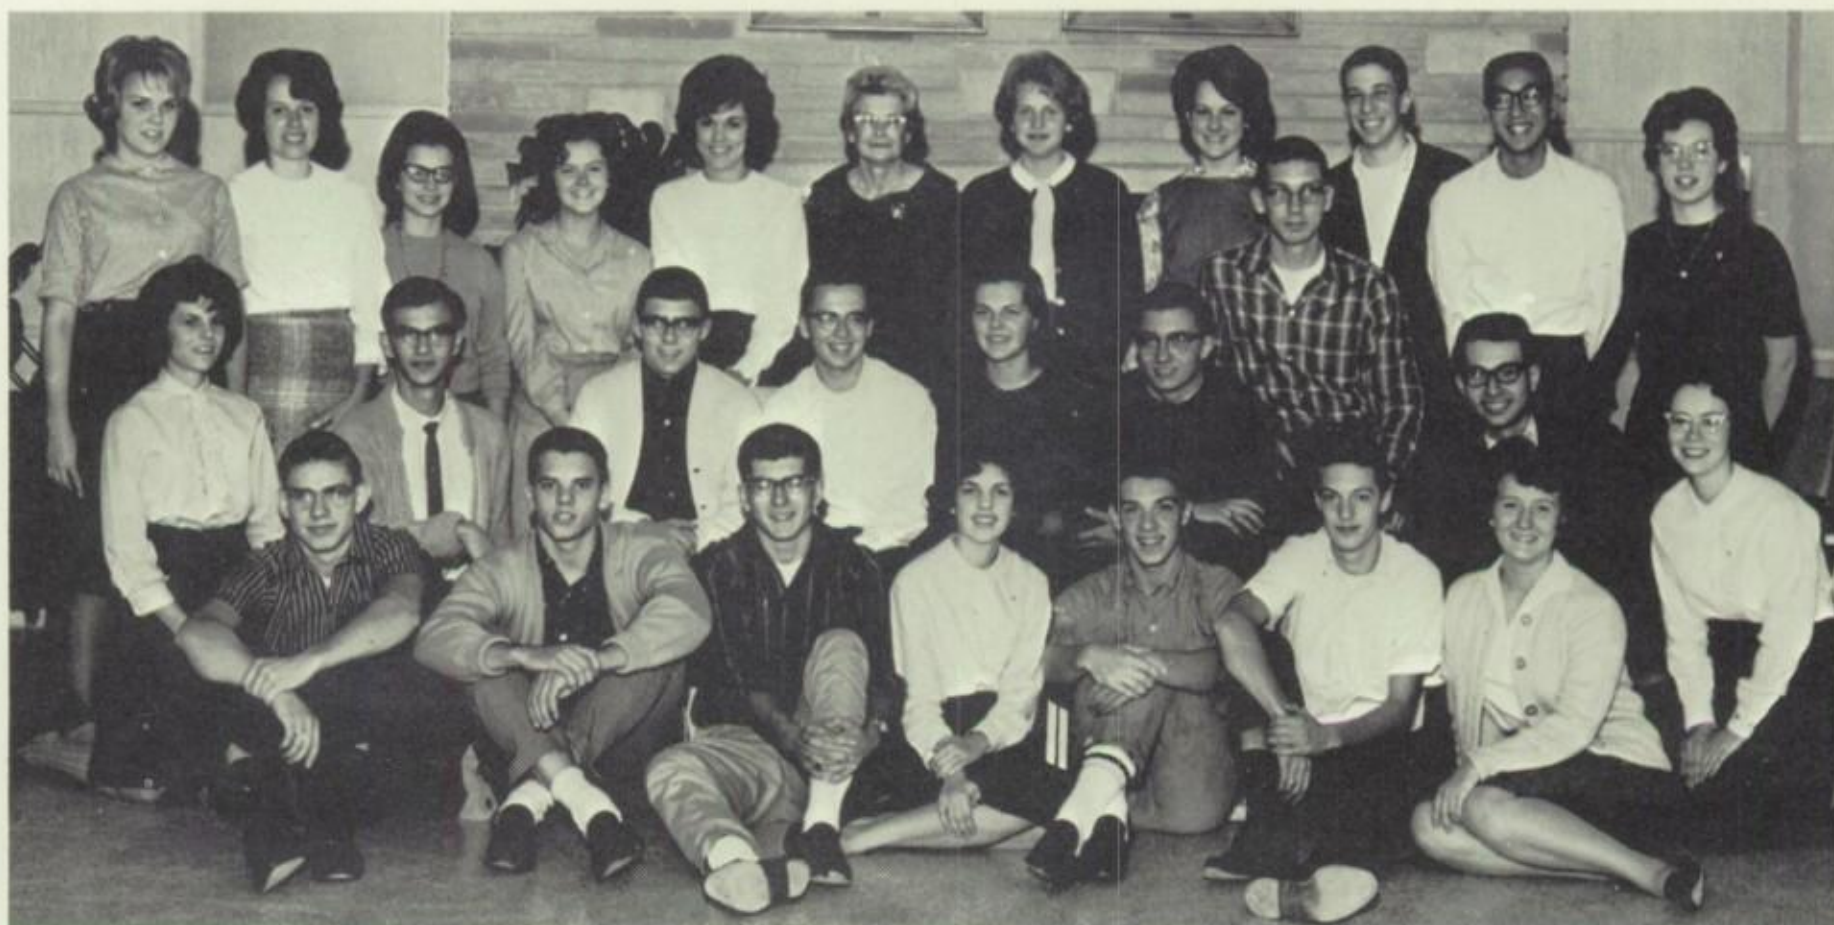

Quill and Scroll is a journalism honorary which is open to juniors and seniors. Each member must be in the upper third of his class, have done outstanding work in journalism, and be recommended by his adviser. This year the club sold maize and blue shakers for athletic events and held an area-wide conference for Quill and Scroll members in the spring. The induction of new members was held this year for both juniors and seniors in the late spring.

The members held a speech contest for a one act play and helped promote the school plays. Other events of the year were a Mardi Gras party and an induction in the spring.

Honor Society salutes outstanding leaders.

Students are selected for the Whitmer chapter of the National Honor Society because of their outstanding achievement in scholarship, service, leadership, and character. The purpose of this club is to stimulate an enthusiasm for these ideals. To be eligible for membership, a junior must have an accumulative B average and a senior must have an accumulative C average. Members started the year with a Halloween party, and they held a sleigh ride after snow arrived with winter. In between football and basketball seasons, members held a very successful barn dance called "Turkey in the Straw." Students came dressed in old clothes or costumes which fit the theme of the dance. A turkey was given as a door prize to the holder of the lucky ticket. The money earned from the dance was donated to the Whitmer Scholarship Fund. Throughout the year, meetings were held regularly at the homes of different members. With spring came the tapping ceremony of the new junior and senior members. The annual picnic and formal induction added the final touches to the year's activities.

Club members learn to appreciate the spirit

To be a member of La Alianza, Whitmer's Spanish Club, a student must have completed two years of Spanish or currently be studying it. At each club meeting an interesting program helped the members learn more about the people and the countries whose language they were studying. At one meeting, Mr. Mandarine, a student teacher, told the club members about his recent tour of Spain. At another meeting a panel of students discussed vocational opportunities available in the field of Spanish. The club members gave a Christmas basket to a needy Mexican family, and they made a piñata, a paper-mache head filled with gifts and candy, for the children.

and customs of Spanish speaking countries.

The Cervantes chapter of La Sociedad Hispánica, Whitmer's Spanish Honorary, has just completed its first full year of activity. In May, 1963, a beautiful initiation conducted entirely in Spanish was held for Whitmer's chapter which was named for the famous Spanish author. Only one chapter in each state may be named for any given author. Any student who has completed three semesters of Spanish and maintained an honor average in the subject is eligible for membership. The club held two initiation ceremonies this year, one during each semester. Club members helped the third and fourth years classes publish a Spanish newspaper, La Linterna.

Roman banquet highlights Latin festivities.

Latin students who have taken or are taking one year of Latin are invited to join the Junior Classical League. The members of this club learn a deeper appreciation for the Latin language. At Christmas time the club members assembled food, clothing, and toys for a needy family. JCL members were auctioned off as slaves to CHS members at their joint annual Roman banquet.

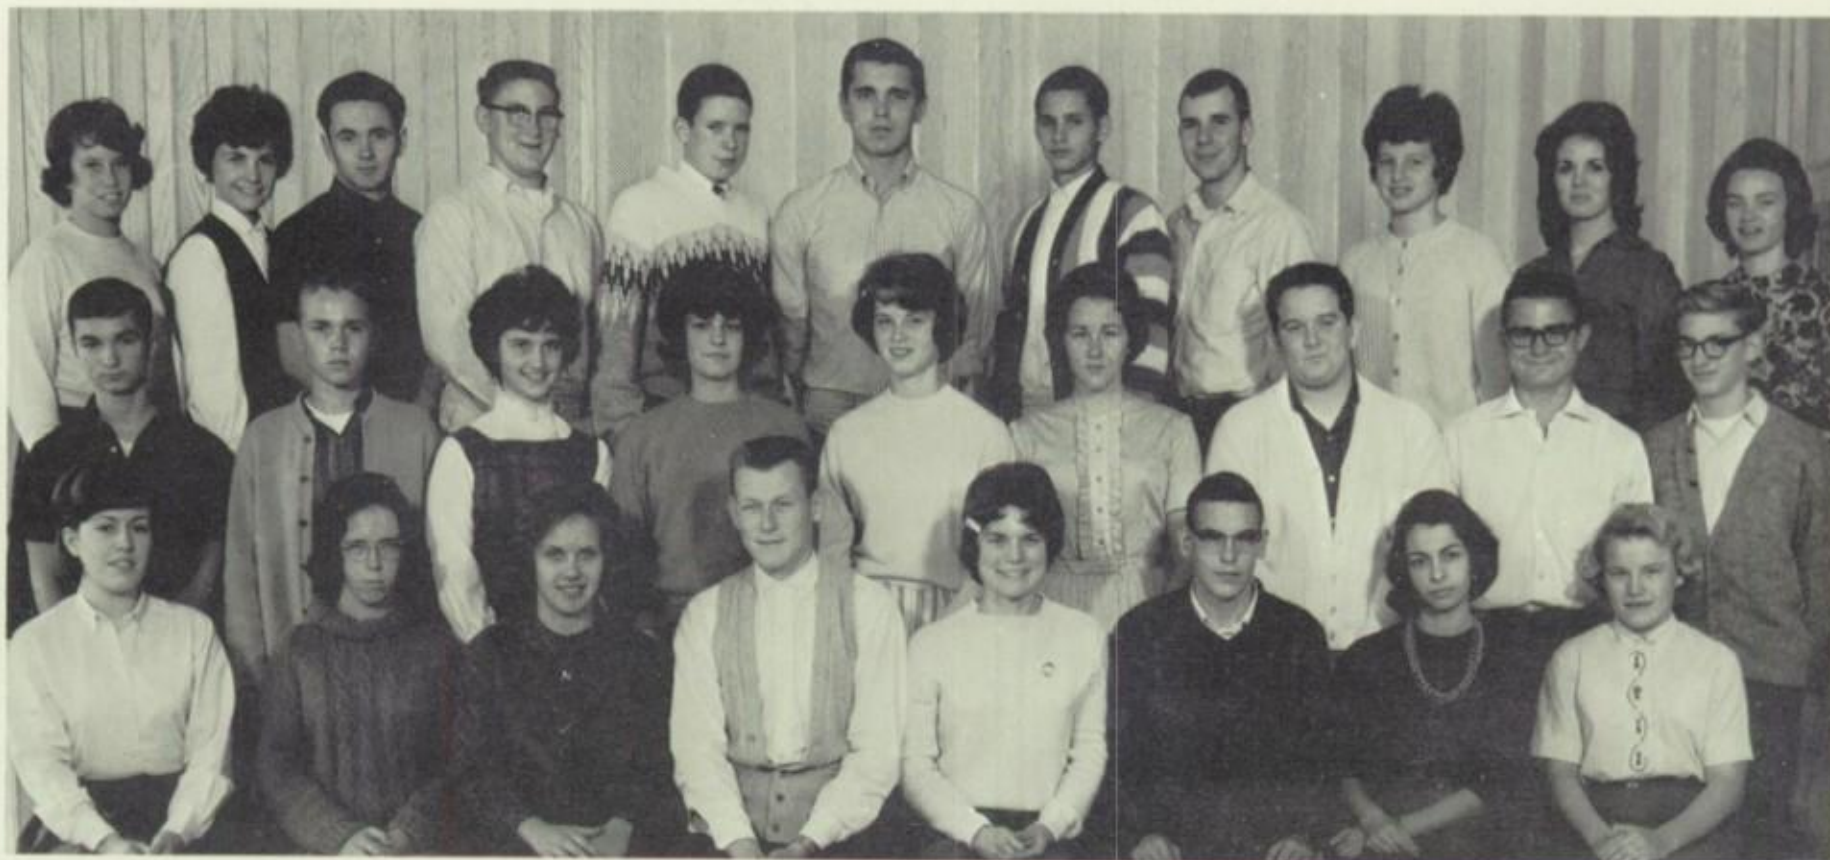

Members of Classical Honor Society must be taking or have taken three years of Latin. These students endeavor to further their knowledge of classical studies. The club's service project was to publish a directory containing students' names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Members planned a bowling party and a picnic, and they attended a state convention in Columbus. Their annual Roman Banquet was held in the school cafeteria.

The purpose of the German Club is to make members more appreciative of the culture of Germany. Students must be taking German or have taken it in the past to qualify for membership in this new club. Early in the year, members attended a German Smorgasbord. They held a German Christmas party, enjoyed a German movie, and sponsored an after game dance during football season.

The French Club is open to any student who has taken French or knows how to speak the language. The purpose of this club is to become better acquainted with French customs, culture, geography, and the French language. This year the members held a French banquet at the Trilby Shelter House and such unusual foods as snails, chestnuts, and pâté de fois gras were served.

Interscholastic speech is promoted by Forum.

The Forum is open to all students interested in debate and speech. Individual events participants as well as debaters can and do belong to the Forum. Club members spend several hours each week practicing for debates and tournaments which are scheduled with other area schools throughout the state from November to March. The Forum has many fine debate teams as evidenced by their list of wins. Whitmer teams won first place in debates at New Richmond, Anthony Wayne, Canton-McKinley, Canton-Lehman, and Sylvania in Ohio, and at Tulane University in New Orleans. At the debate tournament held at Whitmer, our teams and individual events participants won the Sweepstake Award.

The National Forensic League is an honorary for those students who have a real interest in speech, who maintain a high standard of contest ethics, who have good moral character, and who have earned twenty-five points from inter-scholastic speech competition. Senior Bill Markin ranked first in Ohio and third in the nation in points accumulated from interscholastic speech events. Dennis Karsh and Derrell Boggs took first place in the Tulane Invitational Debate Tournament and won $8,000 scholarships to Tulane University. Our varsity team, coached by Mrs. Esther Kalmbach, placed 8th in the national tournament last summer in Houston, Texas. The debate teams have accumulated an impressive array of shiny new trophies for the already overflowing showcase in the front lobby.

Hi-Y participation coordinates teamwork.

The Hi-Y, an organization affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., is open to any boy at Whitmer. A boy can join either the sophomore, junior, or senior club, depending upon his class. The purpose of the club is to promote clean living, good sportsmanship, and service to fellow men. The club strives to develop a high moral standard through fellowship with other young men. Members sold Christmas trees at the Y.M.C.A., sold newspapers for the Old News Boys, and sold programs at basketball games. Members also played in the basketball and volleyball tournaments and held splash parties. The highlight of the year for many boys was the over-night at the Y.M.C.A., where the boys had free use of the Y.M.C.A. for a night. Sophomore members also sold mints and cookies and held a picnic in the spring. Junior members held a dance and a hayride. A farewell party at the end of the year was held by senior members.

All members of the Girls' Athletic Association must participate in at least one sport offered each season, and members are required to attend all club meetings. The purpose of GAA is to teach sportsmanship and leadership through participation in sports and games. Activities this year included field hockey, bowling, volleyball, basketball, softball, fencing, and track. During the year GAA held interscholastic games and meets with girls from surrounding high schools. Many girls enjoyed fencing even though it was the only sport in which inter-school competition did not exist. To earn money for their service project, the girls sold refreshments at a basketball game. As a service project throughout the year, members of GAA sent small gifts and toilet articles to patients at the Toledo State Hospital. During the year, activities included a sophomore initiation held in the cafeteria, a splash party, and an awards banquet. Awards given are based on the number of points a girl has accumulated for her leadership, attendance, and participation in sports. Many girls received emblems and letter awards at this banquet.

Y-Teen formal highlights an eventful year.

Senior Y-Teens is made up of junior and senior girls while only sophomores belong to Sophomore Y-Teens. The two clubs, affiliated with the Y.W.C.A., try to unite their members in a spirit of friendliness and service to others. Club members made dolls and stuffed animals for orphans, held a party at a children's home, and served a meal for the Society of the Blind. Members attended an ice-skating party and the Y.W.C.A. dance, "Harvest Hop," in the fall and winter. In the spring, the girls took part in a Y-Teens Olympics and attended a city-wide Lenten breakfast. Both clubs sponsored after game dances, and sophomores sold candy and attended a splash party at the Y.W.C.A. The seniors ended the year with their annual spring banquet.

FACULTY

Glen W. Kessler—Assistant Principal

Whitmer administrators strive to correlate

Mrs. Dorothy Furll and Mrs. Margaret Scofield.

Mr. Glen W. Kessler, assistant principal, has just completed his first year at Whitmer. Although he is new to our school system, he is a veteran of sixteen years in the field of education. He has served as a teacher, a coach, and both a junior high and a senior high principal. Mr. Kessler attended high school in Hamilton, Ohio, and college at Miami University at Oxford and Columbia University. Mr. Kessler is married and is the father of three sons. His pet peeve is people who procrastinate, and his favorite leisure time activities are fishing and camping.

Mrs. Margaret Scofield and Mrs. Dorothy Furll, both Whitmer graduates, are secretaries in Mr. Kessler's office. Mrs. Furll, new to Whitmer this year, works here only in the morning. Both faculty and students welcome Mrs. Scofield's cheery smile and friendly assistance.

Harvey J. Davis—Principal

faculty objectives and students' interests.

Mr. Davis and Mrs. Elsie Miller

Mr. Harvey J. Davis has been principal at Whitmer for ten years and a member of the faculty since 1947. He has served as a teacher, a coach, and as boys' dean during his years at Whitmer. Mr. Davis graduated from high school in Iowa and from Northwest Missouri State College. During the summer Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their three children enjoy fishing and boating at their cottage on Lake Killarney. Mr. Davis admires honesty in people, and he states that he thinks Whitmer students are the best in the area.

Mrs. Elsie Miller is Mr. Davis' secretary and the school treasurer. Her work also includes the supervision of students who operate the mimeograph and ditto machines in her office. Mrs. Miller relaxes by reading, sewing, and playing the organ.

John Hersland and Mrs. Irma Schlegel—Deans

Mrs. Irma Schlegel, dean of girls, is an understanding friend to many Whitmer students. During many of her thirty-five years at Whitmer, she has taught classes in addition to serving as girls' dean. She is a graduate of Holland High School and the University of Toledo. Her sense of humor makes her popular with both faculty and students, and in her leisure time she enjoys reading and attending baseball games.

Mr. John Hersland has been dean of boys for only one year. A veteran of fourteen years at Whitmer, Mr. Hersland has served as teacher, coach, athletic director, and dean. Mr. Hersland is a graduate of Libbey High School and Bowling Green State University. He and his family spend their summers at their cottage in northern Michigan. His favorite days at Whitmer are "days when absenteeism is low."

Deans and librarians offer valuable services.

Mrs. Helen Coney and Mrs. Alice Lemerand

The Whitmer library is a bright airy room with many study tables available and a pleasant atmosphere to encourage studying. Students are fortunate to attend a school with such a large and well-stocked library. Many poetry anthologies, mythology source books, and short story collections are available to students for class assignments. Students can easily find any source book they need in our school library. In addition to these books, the library also has the usual reference books, novels, plays, non-fiction books, and periodicals one expects to find in a library.

Mrs. Helen Coney, school librarian for four years, is a graduate of Western Reserve Library School. She is quick to aid a student or faculty member, and she has increased the number of reference and source books which can be circulated. Mrs. Alice Lemerand, a cheerful library assistant, is always ready to help students as they return and check out books.

Whitmer's guidance program was expanded this year to include new personnel. All three of our guidance men have just completed their first year at Whitmer. Mr. Clifford Dearbaugh, our academic counselor, graduated from DeVilbiss High School and the University of Toledo. In his spare time, he enjoys swimming and refinishing furniture. Our vocational counselor, Mr. Robert Eigensee, is a graduate of Central Catholic High School and the University of Toledo. He appreciates the friendly and cooperative atmosphere at Whitmer. Mr. Edward Draheim, who is our special education instructor, graduated from Libbey High School and the University of Toledo. Mr. Draheim formerly taught at both Washington and Jefferson Junior High Schools.

Clifford Dearbaugh, Robert Eigensee, Edward Draheim.

Vocational and academic counseling offered.

Each year Whitmer's guidance counselors supervise registration of students, administer tests to hundreds of students, and interpret test scores for students and parents.

Our academic counselor, Mr. Dearbaugh, schedules many conferences and interviews between students and college personnel. He advises students of available scholarships and helps college-bound students apply for scholarships and college admission.

Mr. Eigensee, our vocational counselor, works with students who are primarily interested in finding a job after completion of high school. He has job information and data on technical schools and on-the-job training programs which he makes available to interested students.

Any Whitmer student finds a visit to the guidance department a worthwhile experience.

Students assume varied postures while concentrating on guidance tests.

Students work diligently in order to complete tests in the allotted time.

Frank Erme, who teaches contemporary history and advises Varsity W, attended high school in Sharpville, Pennsylvania. He coaches basketball and baseball, enjoys sports and reading, and likes everything about Whitmer.

Miss Susan Corrothers, who teaches world history and English, graduated from high school in Blacksville, West Virginia. She enjoys tinting photographs in her spare time and appreciates Whitmer's cooperative staff.

Gene Knauss, a Whitmer graduate, teaches American history, advises Junior Hi-Y, and coaches reserve basketball. He admires great people, and his favorite leisure time activities are reading and sports.

Civics gives working knowledge of government.

One aim of the social studies department is to make each student aware of his rights and duties as a citizen. Its studies hope to combat the apathy toward social conditions so apparent in the world today.

Civics is a course on American government which is required of seniors. It helps prepare the individual to vote intelligently and to understand his responsibilities as a citizen. The classes study the structure and operation of the United States government, and much emphasis is placed on the Constitution as a framework for government. This year the government classes toured the Lucas County Court House where they visited some of the local courts. A few of the classes also visited the county jail and the safety building.

Through American history the life story of our country is presented to the students. History became alive for some students when they visited Ft. Meigs, a place about which they had read many times, but had failed to connect with their own lives.

Art Rice, who teaches social studies, attended high school in Wisconsin. His favorite leisure time activity is traveling, and he enjoys the friendly rapport between faculty and students at Whitmer.

John Vergiels, a graduate of Waite, teaches social studies and coaches football. He is an admirer of John F. Kennedy, enjoys reading and sports, and likes Whitmer's spirit this year.

Steve Kerlin, who teaches civics and American history, attended high school in Bedford, Ohio. He advises the senior class, coaches wrestling, enjoys gardening, and appreciates the cooperation of Whitmer students.

Mrs. Maryjayne Roenick, a Whitmer graduate, teaches American government and heads the social studies department. The person she most admires is her husband, and her favorite recreation is bowling.

Past events recalled in history courses.

World history is a course designed to show the evolution and advancements of various civilizations through the ages. The students participate in class discussions and give oral reports on various topics of interest which stimulate discussion and debate.

Contemporary history is required of those students who have not previously taken world history. This course requires that all students read the newspaper thoroughly each day. They report their interesting findings to the class in the form of panel discussions.

Geography is a semester course offered at Whitmer. Students study geographical land formations and also the exports, imports, and natural resources of countries throughout the world.

Whitmer's sociology classes help each person make a better adjustment to life by understanding himself and others. Many reports are written and given, and these form an important part of the course.

A contemporary history class prepares for a heated argument during one of its panel discussions on current topics.

James Larson, who teaches American history and advises student council, is a graduate of Ottawa Hills High School. He admires John F. Kennedy and appreciates the friendly faculty-student relationship.

Miss Francine Bergsman, who graduated from Whitmer, teaches American history and advises the Pep Club. She enjoys playing bridge and bowling, and she appreciates the students' respect toward their teachers.

Varied expressions are mirrored on the faces of the choir members as they practice musical arrangements.

Music program adds enjoyment to holidays.

At our annual Christmas assembly, which was held in the field house, we were fortunate to hear many fine selections presented by Whitmer's excellent music department, consisting of the band and the choir. A popular part of the program was selections sung by a boys' quartet. The girls' glee club also sang a medley of numbers. The instrumental music division at Whitmer includes the marching and concert bands. In addition this year, a stage band, a pep band, and a combo were formed. The bands meet for practice one hour each day. Practice rooms are available for students to use during their free periods. The vocal division of the music department consists of the sophomore girls' glee club, which meets for rehearsals twice each week, and the a cappella choir which is open to junior and senior girls and all boys. The choir rehearses one hour each day. The vocal classes are designed to develop group harmony without instruments.

Clyde Brown, who graduated from North Baltimore High School, teaches vocal music and directs the choir and glee club. He enjoys boating during the summer and admires Colonel John Glenn.

Harmon Miehl, marching and concert band director, attended high school in Spencerville, Ohio. He enjoys bowling, appreciates the loyal support of the Band Boosters, and admires a successful educator.

Mrs. Margaret Towe, who heads the English department, graduated from Scott High School. Her favorite pastimes are reading and gardening, she admires Winston Churchill, and she likes Whitmer's friendly atmosphere.

Mrs. Judy Dearbaugh, who teaches English and advises Senior FTA, graduated from DeVilbiss High. She enjoys playing bridge, and she admires the person who lives up to his principles.

Senior English lays foundation for college.

The English department of Whitmer believes that its curriculum offers a happy balance of the art of reading, speaking, and writing. Its program attempts to be significant to everyone by presenting a wide range of reading materials from the Reader's Digest through the world's great classics. The needs of our students on varying levels are met in many ways. The sophomore English classes explore a variety of fields including poetry, mythology, and library research. During the year the students read Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, Dickens' Tale of Two Cities, and Silas Marner by George Eliot.

In the junior year the course includes a complete study of American literature, including the works of such authors as Twain, Poe, and Whitman. Melville's Moby Dick and Wilder's Our Town are required reading. The study of grammar in junior English varies from class to class according to the need.

Senior English is not a required course and is usually chosen by college-bound students. Many of the classes read the great epic works of the Iliad and the Odyssey. Shakespeare's Hamlet and MacBeth are included in the seniors' schedule, as is Crime and Punishment. There is much emphasis on theme writing and vocabulary improvement.

The semester composition course at Whitmer is designed to teach the mechanics of writing to college-bound students. Correct and proper sentence structure is stressed, and a term paper, complete with footnotes, is a requisite of the course. A semester course in creative writing follows composition and gives students a chance to experiment with various styles in writing both prose and poetry.

In order to get ideas for their own Tale of Two Cities projects Wendy Hollister and Mike Johnson examine those made by former students.

Miss Joanne Less, a graduate of DeVilbiss High School, teaches senior English. During her leisure hours she enjoys bowling and horseback riding, and she appreciates the courtesy of Whitmer students.

Tom Gahan delivers the morning paper to Amy Weiler, John Bombrys, and Ada Poole, main characters in Our Town, while Don McGraw as the Stage Manager adds pertinent remarks.

Fiction comes alive in classroom portrayal.

Mrs. Donna Apling, an ex-Whitmerite, teaches English and advises Junior F.T.A. Her favorite pastime is baking for her new husband, and Helen Keller is the person she most admires.

Miss Phyllis Wrzesinski, a graduate of Woodward High, teaches junior English. In her leisure time she enjoys reading, and she appreciates the enthusiasm and spirit of the Whitmer student body.

JAlan Aufderheide, who attended Libbey High School, teaches English and directs the senior play. He is a great admirer of Mark Twain, and his favorite pastimes include reading and philosophizing.

Sophomores browse through the assortment of books available in the bookmobile before making their final selection.

Bookmobile offers vast selection of titles.

Mrs. Elaine Shaw, who teaches sophomore and junior English, attended Bowling Green High School. She advises Future Nurses of America. She enjoys reading and is an admirer of Carl Sandburg.

Mrs. Margaret Koon, who advises the Bible Club, teaches sophomore and junior English. A graduate of Libbey High School, she spends her free time going to auctions, bowling, and reading.

Mrs. Beverly Eakin, who teaches English, graduated from an Ashland, Ohio high school. In her leisure time she enjoys skiing and cooking and appreciates the pleasant classrooms at Whitmer.

Miss Susan Fisk, a graduate of DeVilbiss High School, teaches English. She arranged the choreography for Pajama Game. She enjoys shopping and working on dance routines in her spare time.

Andrew High, Jr., who teaches journalism, advises the Panther's Pause and Quill and Scroll. He attended high school in Webster Groves, Missouri, and his favorite pastimes are bowling and golf.

Mrs. Helen Dennis, who teaches sophomore English and journalism, enjoys teaching at her alma mater. She advises the Oracle, admires enthusiastic people, and spends her leisure time reading and swimming.

Speech classes pave way to self-assurance.

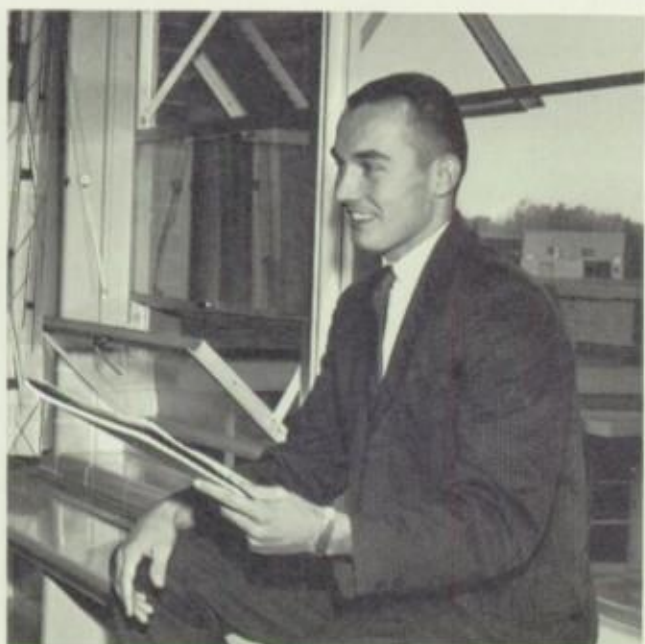

The journalism classes edit and publish the bi-weekly edition of the school newspaper, the Panther's Pause, and the yearbook, the Oracle. The students devote many extra hours toward the organization of these publications.

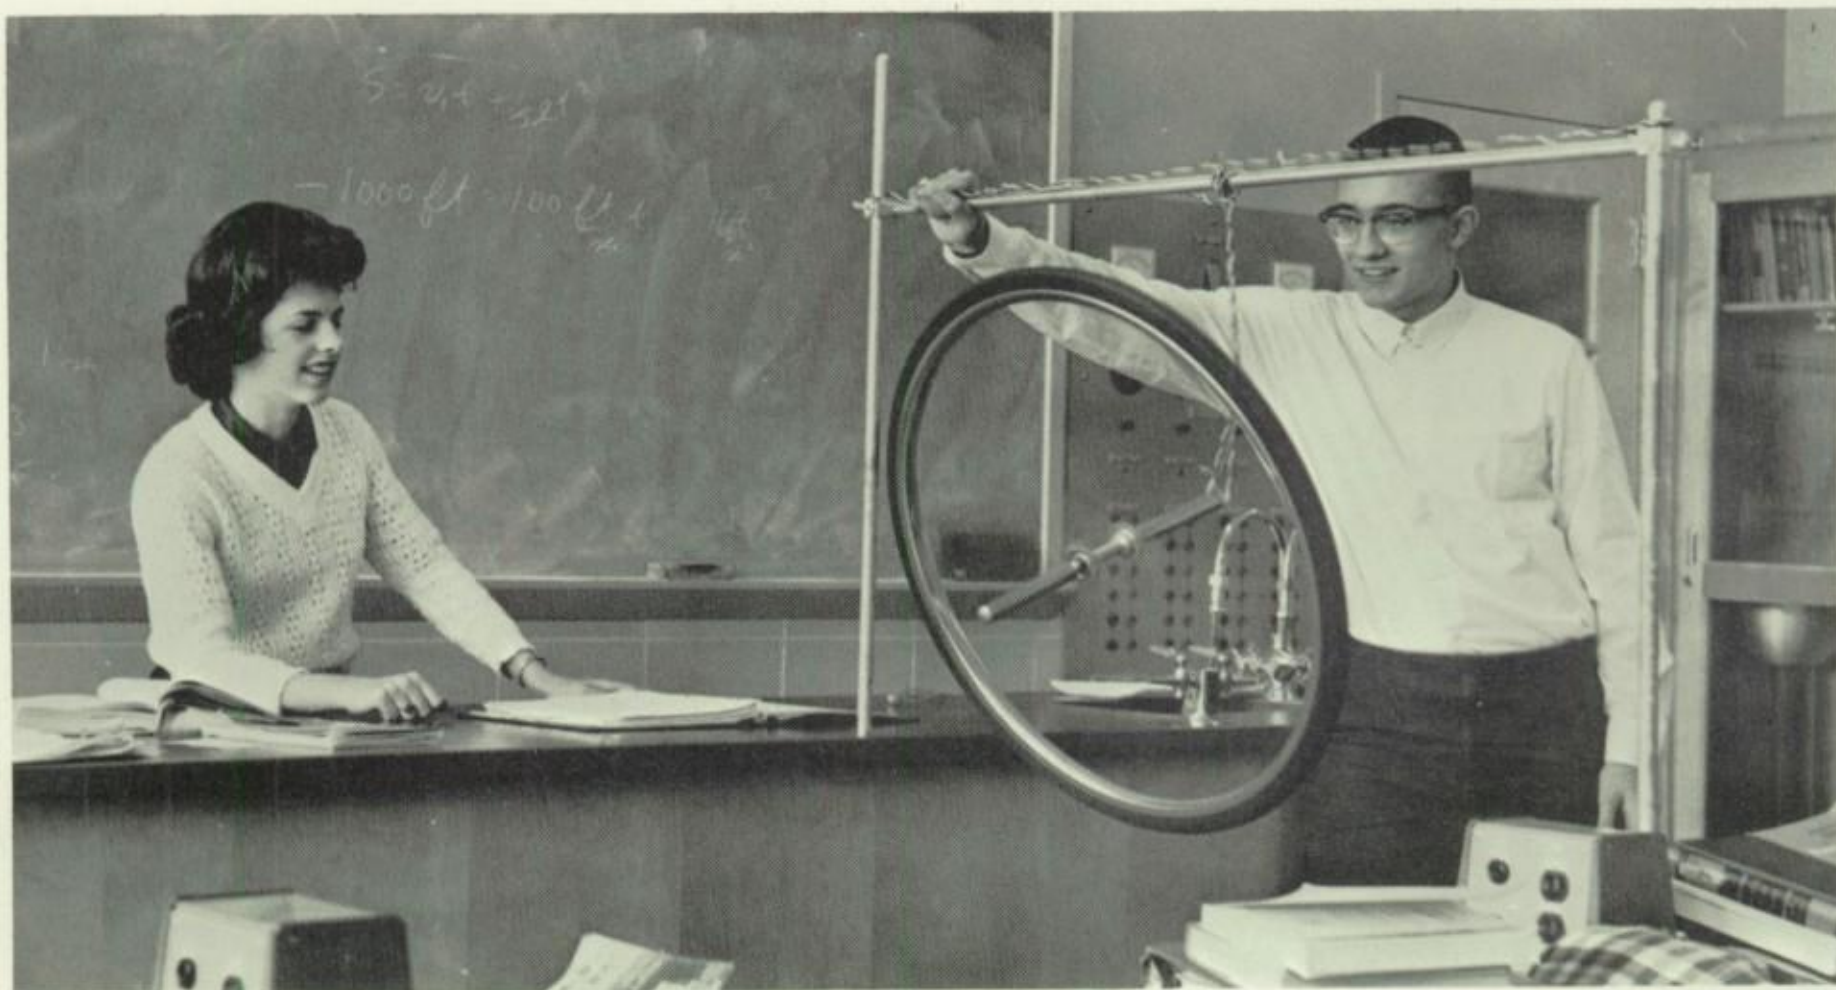

Speech courses are designed to develop poise and confidence for speaking in front of an audience. In class the students participate in pantomimes, monologues, panel discussions, and debates. Students write practical and constructive criticisms for their fellow classmates, as well as receive criticism on their own speeches.

Early in October, an interesting and profitable innovation arrived at Whitmer. A large van containing books on all subjects from the classics to modern murder mysteries was stationed at the rear of the school. The students visited the bookmobile during their English periods and purchased many paperback editions. Throughout the school year the English department maintains a traveling book rack where students may purchase paperbacks from a wide selection.

Robert Fatchett, who advises Thespians and teaches speech, graduated from high school in Blissfield, Michigan. He likes to attend athletic contests and enjoys the friendly atmosphere among Whitmer students.

Stacy Grimes pantomimes "My Baby Loves the Western Movies" in speech class.

Complete science program aids in selecting

The Whitmer science department experimented with team teaching for the first time this year. Teachers lectured and showed movies to several classes of biology students at the same time. Later the students were divided into smaller groups for laboratory work. One essential part of biology is learning the proper use of the microscope, and students spend many hours learning to use it correctly. Students work in small groups of two or three to prepare their laboratory reports. Both the plant kingdom and the animal kingdom are thoroughly covered during the year. Students study the simplest forms of life such as the amoeba and gradually learn about the more complicated creatures until they study man himself. To aid in learning, the students perform simple dissections on worms, crayfish, and frogs. The biology rooms are full of interesting displays, such as pine cones, shells, and charts. The students watch the growth and habits of white mice, fish, and frogs. Biology students tend the plants in the greenhouse, and they transplant some of these in the spring to the boxes in front of the school.

Edgar Gibson, who teaches biology, advises Senior Hi-Y, and coaches reserve football, is a graduate of Holland High School. He enjoys reading and hunting and greatly admires Vince Lombardi.

Miss Lillian Steiner, who advises the Biology Club, teaches biology and home economics. A graduate of Pandora High School, she lists reading as her favorite leisure time activity.

David Beck, head of the science department, teaches biology and coaches the chess team. A graduate of Perrysburg High School, he enjoys hunting, fishing, and camping in his spare time.

Andy Houser and Chuck Wechsel view slides of living cells under the microscope during a biology laboratory session.

Physiology continues the study of life which was begun in biology. A human skeleton and muscle and bone charts are used to help the students learn all the muscles and bones of the body. Students need a good memory for this course because they perform a complete dissection on a cat.

Physics comes from the Greek word which means "nature." The students study the physical, rather than the chemical aspects of heat, sound, light, and electricity. Mathematics is a prerequisite for physics. The slide rule becomes a faithful companion as it is needed to help calculate problems quickly.

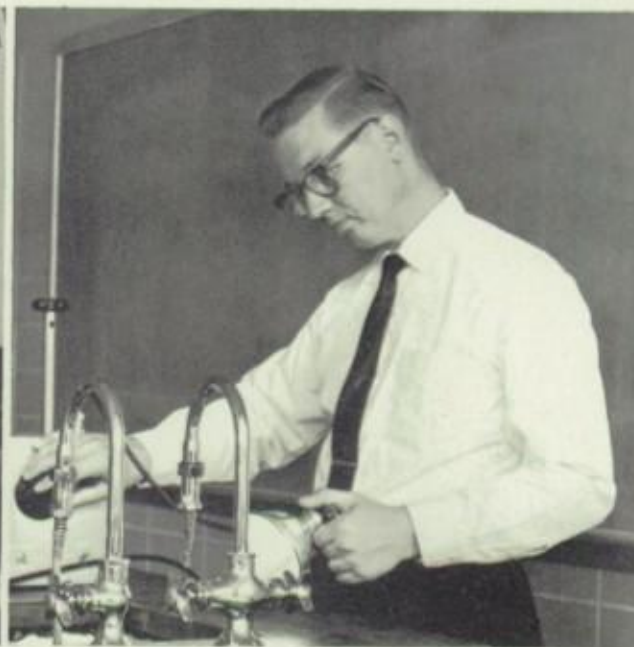

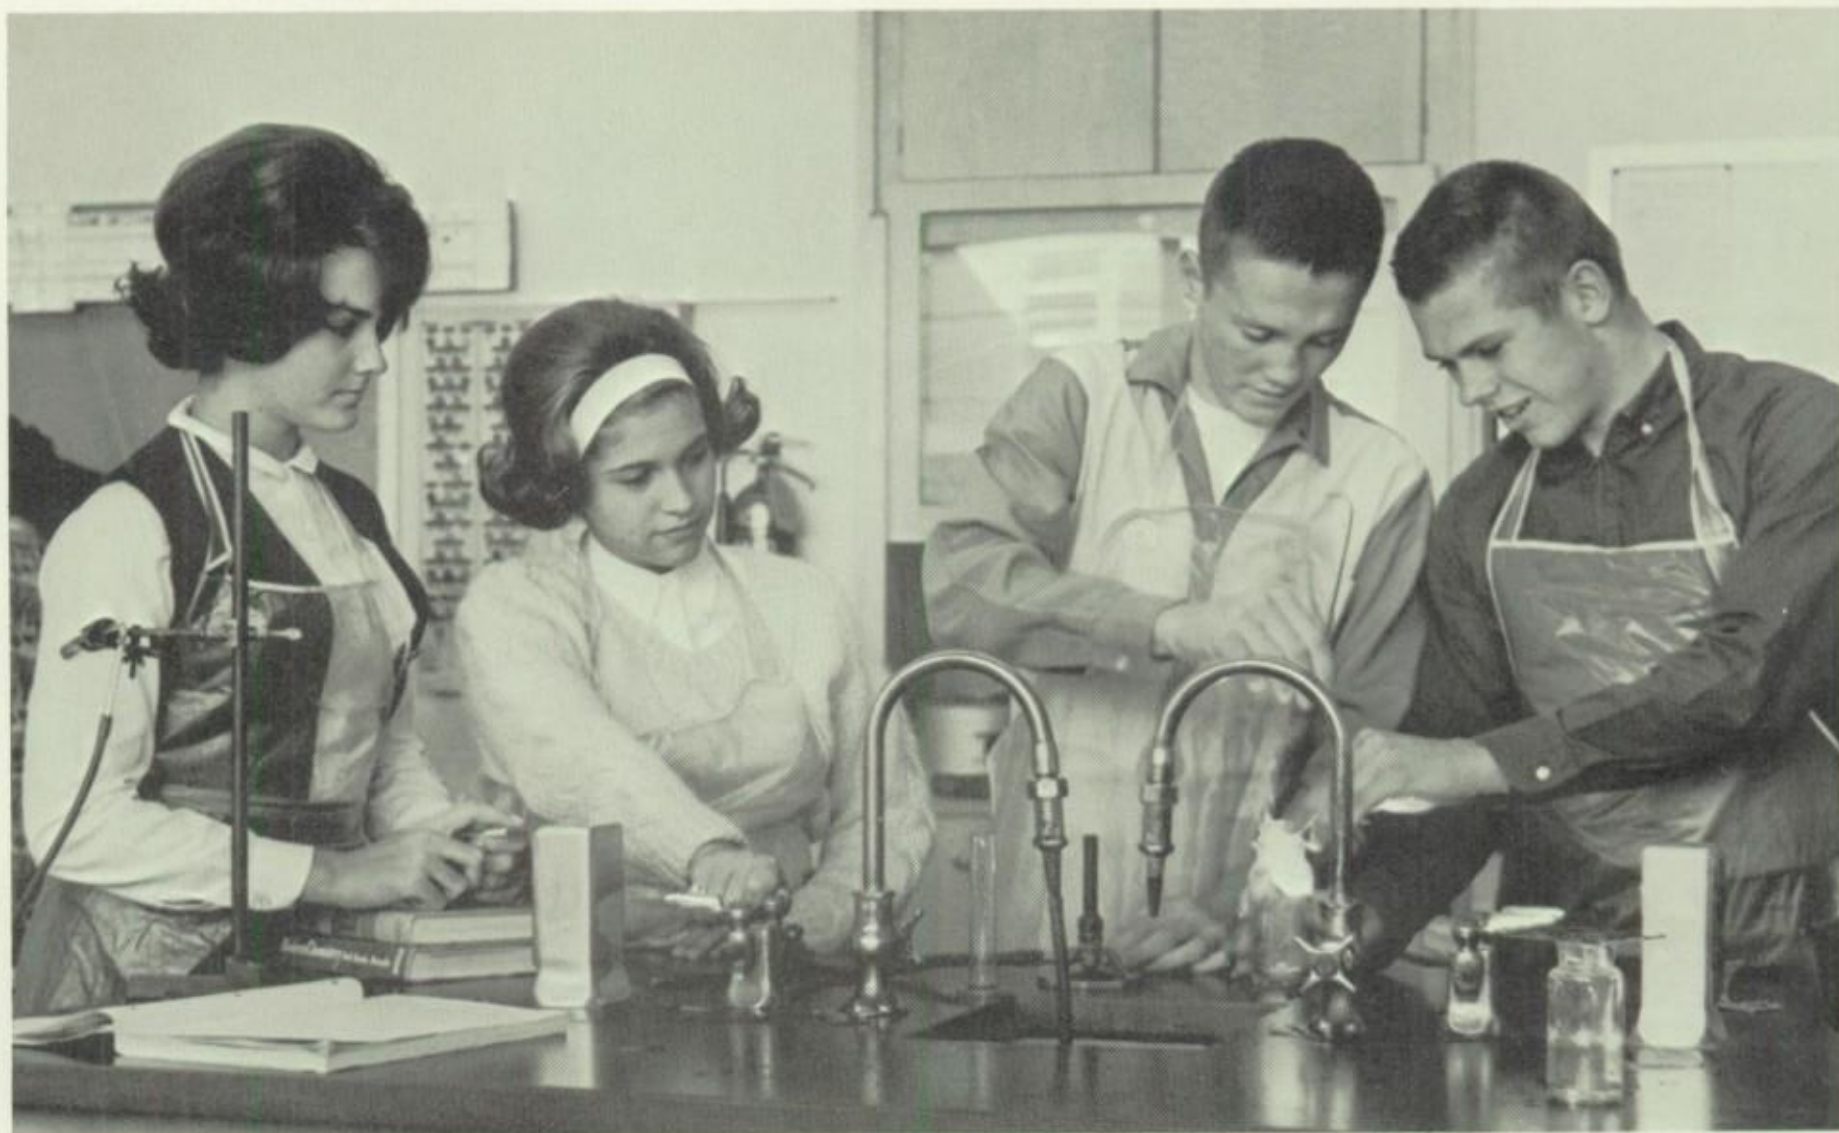

Jane Selby shows Linda Molik and Dave Howard the proper procedure for "skinning a cat."

Gerald Ice, who graduated from Scott High, teaches physiology and biology and advises the sophomore class. He enjoys weightlifting, admires John F. Kennedy, and appreciates the Whitmer science department.

Richard McLeod, a Whitmer graduate, teaches physics, advanced science, and shop math. He enjoys sailing in his spare time, admires Albert Einstein, and at Whitmer likes the students best.

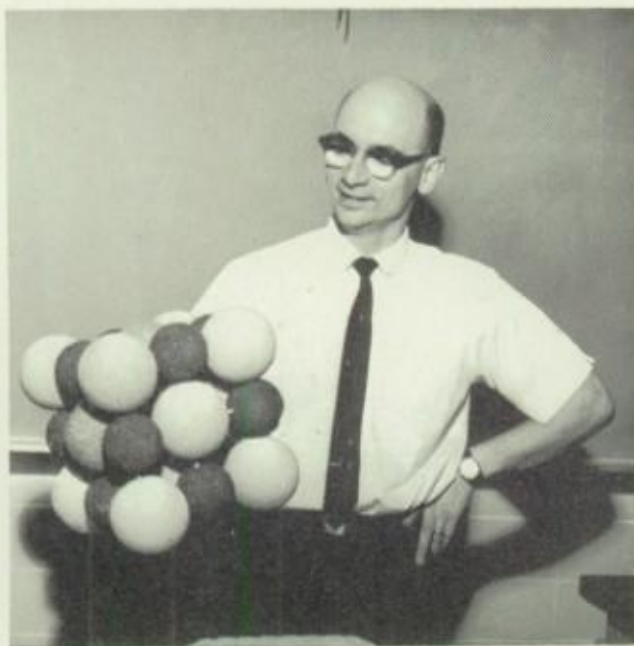

Chemistry students Cheryl Vollmayer, Barb Conty, Gary Church, and Norm Miles test to see if phosphorus will burn differently in pure oxygen.

Labs and lectures teach chemistry principles.

An advanced science seminar was offered for the first time this year. The few students in this class were given access to all the science resources in the school. Each student worked on a special project in his own field of interest. Group discussions, movies, and lectures from visiting scientists were various methods used for teaching.

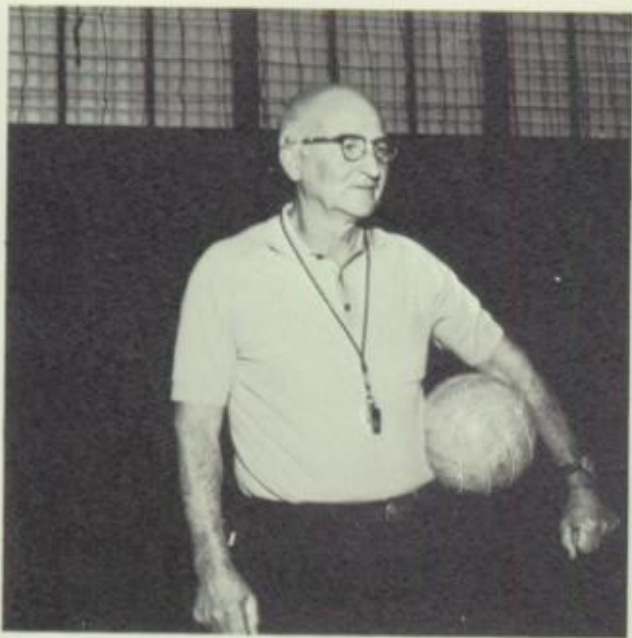

Each week chemistry students spend some class time in the lecture room and some time in the laboratory. During the lectures the instructor presents to the class the new material, formulas, and preparation for future laboratory periods. In the laboratory, students experiment with many elements, attempting to prove the facts which they learned during the lecture periods. Near the end of the year qualitative analysis is studied, and each student is given three unknowns. He must run each of these unknowns through a series of tests until he can positively identify each one. This is a very essential part of the chemistry program at Whitmer.

Norman Hunter, who teaches chemistry, likes the fine attitude of the chemistry students. A Whitmer alumnus, he admires Albert Schweitzer and likes to camp and travel in his spare time.

Mrs. Esther Kalmbach, who advises NFL and Forum and coaches debate, teaches chemistry. She graduated from a Columbus, Ohio high school, and her favorite sports include swimming and golfing.

Donald Stacy, an Arcadia High School graduate, teaches physical education, coaches baseball, and directs the annual school circus. He enjoys woodworking, and the person he most admires is his wife.

Miss Sally Matheney, a graduate of Perrysburg High School, teaches physical education and advises GAA. The people she most admires are her parents, and her favorite pastime is camping.

Thomas Overholser, who attended high school in Springfield, Ohio, teaches physical education. He is the assistant reserve football coach, and in his spare time enjoys hunting, fishing, and bowling.

Practice and dexterity result in perfection.

The growing national concern for physical fitness has made high school physical education programs more important than ever. Whitmer's excellent physical education program includes such physical fitness tests as push-ups, chin-ups, rope climb, and the 50-yard dash. As long as weather permits, students spend their class periods on the outdoor playing fields. The boys' classes play pass and tap football and soccer. The girls compete in games of soccer, speedball, kickball, and field hockey. When the gym classes move inside, they learn the basic fundamentals of basketball before the five day classes begin their program of tumbling. The two day girls may choose either tumbling or dancing. The gymnastics program is climaxed by the Whitmer Circus, which enables students to display their perfected skills. Volleyball occupies the students' energies until the weather becomes warm enough for softball and baseball. A fully equipped corrective gymnasium is used by those students who are unable to participate in the regular program.

Teamwork, quick reflexes, and agility are required for a good volleyball team.

Sue Mignerey explains a geometry proof as the class observes and checks her work.

Geometry increases one's power to reason.

Mrs. Vera Fontaine, who attended high school in Elkhart, Indiana, teaches geometry and advises National Honor Society. She admires nice people and her favorite pastimes are travel and sports.

Thomas Haydock, who teaches mathematics and advises Junior Council on World Affairs, attended Waite High School. His favorite leisure time activity is woodworking, and he likes everything about Whitmer.

Mrs. Mary Karazim, a graduate of Central Catholic, teaches mathematics and advises the cheerleaders. She admires Mr. Karazim for putting up with her and appreciates the cooperation of Whitmer's teachers.

James Maple, who attended high school in California, Pennsylvania, teaches advanced math, and he is coordinating the math programs in all the elementary schools. His favorite pastime is golf.

Don Corfman, who attended high school in Sandusky, Ohio, teaches mathematics. He likes to sail, and he appreciates Whitmer's math students because they are more mature than junior high students.

Mrs. Vivian Bertram, who attended Scott High School, is head of the mathematics department and teaches advanced algebra. She enjoys visiting with friends and attending plays in her spare time.

Four years of math available to students.

The realization that our world is becoming increasingly scientific has stimulated more Whitmer students to increase their knowledge of mathematics. The mathematics department has had to add more teachers to keep up with the demand. New textbooks have been added to modernize some courses.

Algebra teaches students how to do basic equations, factoring, ratios, and verbals. This helps prepare them for advanced algebra where more advanced equations, factoring, verbals, logarithms, and plotting graphs are learned.

Plane geometry deals with the study of figures in a single plane and seems to teach students to reason more than some other courses. Students who have previously taken advanced algebra, take a combination of plane and solid geometry. This course deals with three dimensional figures as well as those in a single plane. A great deal of imagination is needed for this course.

Advanced math, which may be taken during the senior year, includes trigonometry and analytical geometry. Trigonometry deals with triangles and the indirect measuring of distances while analytical geometry relates algebra and geometry and is a foundation for applied mathematics.

A typical day in math class includes board work as demonstrated by Rich Cunningham, Bruce Penske, and John Millspaugh.

Steve Ames, Larry Hays, and Kathy Kujda look at French pictures and postcards under a colorful poster in the classroom.

¿Qué hay de nuevo? (What's new?) La Linterna, a newspaper printed completely in Spanish and published by the Spanish classes, is the most outstanding new addition to the Spanish program. It contains articles, editorials, and crossword puzzles and greatly resembles an ordinary school newspaper. In the classes themselves, the students devote much time to discussion of current events and everyday conversation, in Spanish of course. Listed among the variety of new things done in the classroom were a style show, fortune telling, and a debate. Each Friday is devoted to speeches, which help the students to perfect their pronunciation.

Quoi de neuf? For the first time this year, the French students listened to recordings made by Frenchmen who tell of their native country and its culture. In class the students act out many of the situations they might encounter if they were traveling to France. They learn to order dinner, reserve a hotel room, and purchase travel and theater tickets. When the students are studying the culture of the country, some paintings and books of famous artists and authors of the period are on display in the classroom.

Languages reveal the romance, culture, and

As August Eichenlaub models his skirt, Bob Werner asks the class, "How do you like my red socks?"

Leonard Kreinbrink, a graduate of Central Catholic High School, teaches French. He advises the French Club and directs the junior play. His favorite leisure time activity is traveling in Europe.

Miss Maureen O'Rourke, who attended Cathedral High in New York, teaches Latin and advises J.C.L. and C.H.S. She admires Fulton Sheen and in her leisure time enjoys reading and traveling.

German students, Bernice Rossnagel, John Day, and George Kalisik, locate the cities they read about in their textbooks.

social customs of many faraway countries.

Was gibt's Neues? German itself is new! It is being offered at Whitmer this year for the first time. In addition to the text, students use large vocabulary cards for drill and the language laboratory for correct pronunciation. German students learn about the geography, money, and history of Germany, as well as the language. Each Friday the students study German poetry, songs, and art.

Quid es novum? Latin is not new and is not considered a living language, but many interesting things take place in the classroom. Conversation in Latin is non-existent, but the Latin class reads a variety of literary works which include the Aeneid, Caesar's Gallic Wars, and stories of ancient Roman life. Class time is also devoted to grammar and the conjugation of verbs.

Miss Zina Albert, who attended high school in South Dakota, advises the German Club and teaches German and English. Her favorite leisure time activity is rummaging through old books.

Ralph McLeod, who teaches Spanish, is an adviser of the sophomore class and co-adviser of the Spanish Club. He is a graduate of Whitmer, and he enjoys the theater.

Miss Janet Zucker, who teaches Spanish, advises both the Spanish Honorary and Spanish Club. She is a graduate of DeVilbiss, and her favorite pastime is playing the piano and organ.

Keeping machinery in good working condition is a vital part of the course in machine shop as illustrated by Lynn Becker.

Practical experience is vital to students.

Many boys take advantage of Whitmer's excellent program in trades and industrial education. The machine shop program provides both practical experience and related science, so that boys are readily able to hold jobs as tool and die makers, machinists, or repairmen. They learn to use the tools and machines of their trade, to read and interpret blueprints, and to apply their knowledge in a practical way.

The auto mechanics course combines classroom theory and lectures with the practical experience of repairing automobiles. The auto shop is operated as nearly like a repair garage as possible, with a foreman who delegates the work and fills out job orders. Students learn to analyze the cars' troubles and make necessary repairs such as: installing and adjusting brakes, overhauling engines, repairing transmissions, and rebuilding distributors.

Harry Graves, who teaches trade and industrial education, is a graduate of Whitmer. In his leisure time, he enjoys traveling, and the person he most admires is his father.

Marion Abel, who attended high school in Clayton, Michigan, teaches trade and industrial education and advises V.I.C. He likes the general atmosphere at Whitmer and enjoys fishing and outdoor sports.

Thad J. Speier, a Macomber graduate, teaches trade and industrial education and advises V.I.C. The person he most admires is his wife, and he enjoys napping in his spare time.

Ralph Pritts, head of the industrial arts department, teaches drafting. He attended high school in Chauncey, Ohio, admires Knute Rockne, and is the trainer for the Tornados, pro-football team.

James Mohn, who teaches driver education, is a junior class adviser and coach of both football and track. He is a graduate of Whitmer, and he greatly admires Paul Slovak.

Henry White, who attended high school in Canton, Ohio, teaches driver education. He appreciates the spirit of the student body, and he enjoys hunting, golfing, and attending sporting events.

Specialized courses require proficiency.

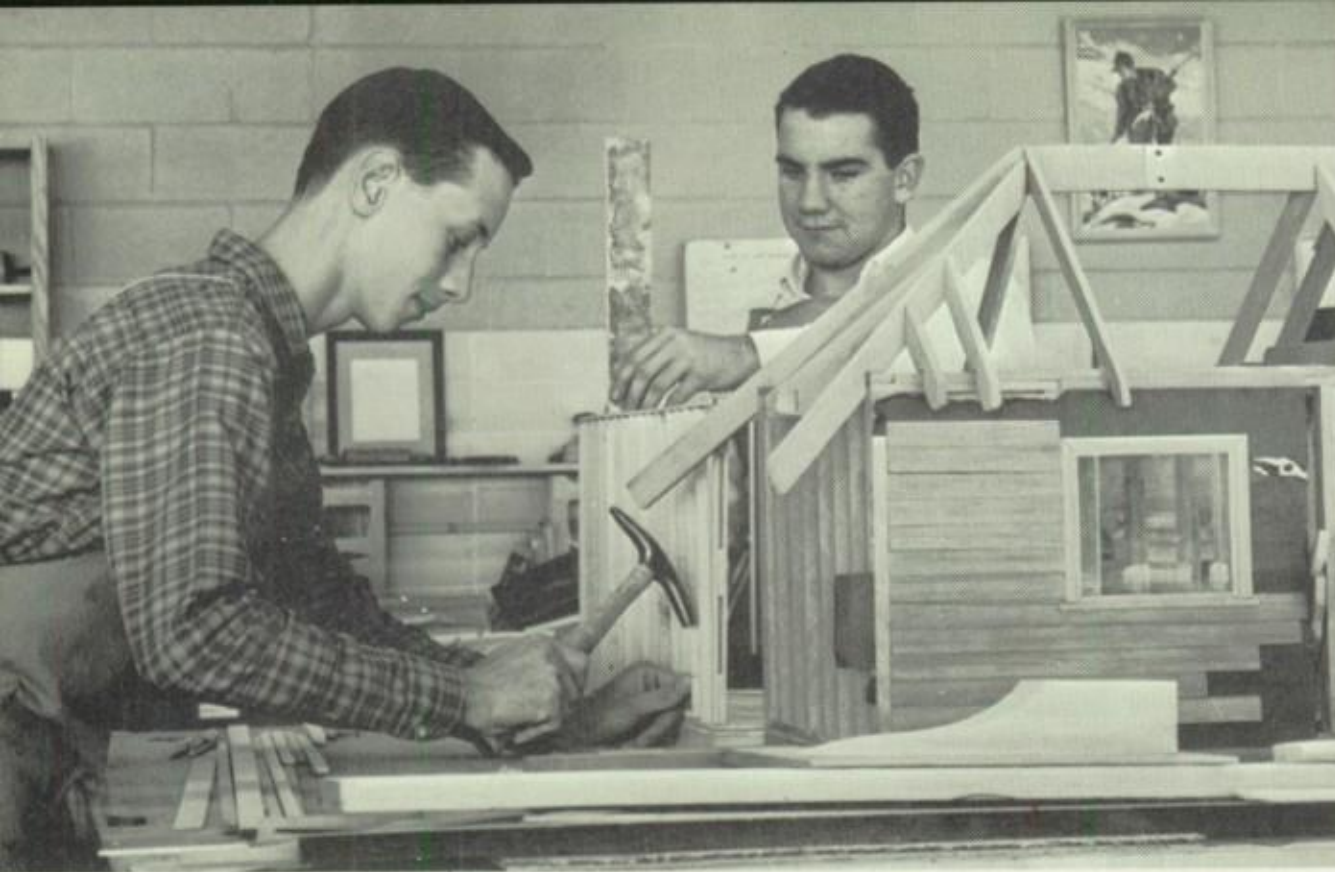

Mr. Mohn points out parts of the electrical system under the hood of the driver training car to Cheryl Hart, Mary Carter, and Judy Oleneck.

Driver training students divide their time between the classroom and the training car. They may see a movie, listen to a lecture on safety in driving, or study traffic signs during their class periods. This year, with two training cars, students learned to drive with a manual as well as an automatic shift. Once during the semester they also visited the city traffic court.

Students interested in architecture or drafting find the mechanical drawing course beneficial. The students learn the basic fundamentals of drawing and how to use such tools as the T square and the straight edge. These tools are put to use as students copy and then design drawings from which blueprints are made. This course is a prerequisite for more advanced architectural design.

Terry Manore and others learn precision and exactness in mechanical drawing classes.

Bill Born and Phil Sneider are seen making additions to the scale model house, which is used as a teaching aid in the woodshop.

Del Johnson, who graduated from high school in Steubenville, Ohio, teaches woodworking. He greatly admires Winston Churchill, and his leisure time activities include reading, gardening, and building.

Individual projects reveal handicraft talent.

Boys in industrial arts may choose to work with metals or with wood. In the art metals course, the students learn the proper use of the tools in the shop. Safe operating procedures are learned along with the use of the tools. The students made coffee tables and book stands from wrought iron to demonstrate their skills with tools.

Boys interested in woodworking for a career or a hobby benefit from Whitmer's woodworking course. Students learn appreciation of good design and craftsmanship as they create projects of their own choosing. This year a few boys started with some raw material and made their own professional-looking skis. Students also learn the proper use of tools and development of safe working practices.

James Wasserman, a graduate of Waite High School, teaches mechanical drawing and art metals. He coaches golf, bowling, and freshman football, and he enjoys sports in general, especially basketball.

Safety goggles are worn by Dave Smith to protect his eyes from flying sparks in the art metals shop.

Miss Frances Kern, who teaches homemaking and advises F.H.A., is a Whitmer graduate. Her favorite leisure time activity is gardening, and the person she most admires is Helen Keller.

Home economics student Mary Ann Fischer demonstrates the proper way to cut out a garment as her classmates are busy at work in the background.

Creative ideas developed in the classroom.

Whitmer's modern homemaking department attracts a large number of girls each year who learn the skills which every girl needs to know in order to be a successful wife, mother, and homemaker. Courses on foods and their preparation, clothing and dressmaking, home furnishing and decorating, and child care are all offered. A luncheon and a tea gave proof of these students' skills as hostesses.

Clay, paint, metal, and paper are all raw materials used by Whitmer artists to express themselves. Art students first study famous artists and their individual styles. This makes the students aware of the many and varied ways available for expressing oneself. Throughout the year the show case in the front lobby was used to display the abundance of talent which exists among the students taking art.

Art students must learn the proper mixture of paints for their color charts.

Paul Slovak, a graduate of Macomber, teaches fine art, directs the school musical, and is ticket manager for all sports. His favorite activities include listening to stereo records and reading.

In the business machines class Lynne Kaminski, Sharon Bresette, and Jean Brabb learn to operate a calculator.

Business students acquire

Whitmer students are realizing the value of learning to type. They know that typing is essential in business and an asset in college. In first year typing, students learn the fundamental parts of the typewriter and how to use it. Each student types on a number of machines throughout the year in order to become familiar with different models. Timed writings, based on speed and accuracy, are a basic part of the course. Letters and manuscripts are typed during the year to familiarize the students with the work of the business world. Personal typing is offered for those students who wish only enough skill to type academic papers.

Office practice is the advanced typing course. Here the students type more extensive reports, forms, and letters. They also learn filing, reception work, and other stenographic duties.

In the bookkeeping course, students are taught how to keep records, write checks, and do general accounting. They also learn to make out tax forms and keep a budget.

Top: Edwin Knepper, who heads the business department, graduated from Bowling Green High School. He plays the trumpet in his leisure time and appreciates the new spirit evident this year.

Third: Mrs. Gertrude Shanteau teaches business subjects, is a co-adviser for FBLA, and admires perseverance in people. She graduated from Rossford High and enjoys reading and music in her leisure time.

Bottom: Mrs. Mona Jane Milne, who attended Clay High, teaches business subjects and supervises the school store. The person she most admires is her mother, and she enjoys watching sporting events.

Andrew Dieringer, who attended high school in Morenci, Michigan, teaches business subjects and is a co-adviser for FBLA. He admires Winston Churchill, and his favorite pastime is playing bridge.

Many secretaries will at some time or other work with various types of business machines. The business machines course teaches students how to operate calculators, transcribers, and adding and duplicating machines. They also learn their parts and cleaning procedure.

Shorthand symbols represent the phonetics of words. After many weeks of drill and memorization, shorthand students begin taking dictation. By the end of one year of study, the students can take dictation at the rate of sixty to eighty words per minute.

Business math is designed to introduce business students to the practical aspects of sales tax, payrolls, and cashbooks.

A new course in salesmanship has been introduced to seniors majoring in business. The course includes a trip to a department store, a sales talk on a selected consumer product, and a notebook giving details on the marketing of a consumer goods product.

The raising of our flag over Whitmer early each morning is one of the many duties of our maintenance men. Our busy eight-man crew has to work diligently to keep Whitmer's classrooms clean and neat. In the spring these men must keep the grass cut, and in the winter they must keep the walks free of snow. One of their biggest tasks is to keep the wastebaskets emptied and their contents burned. Even in the summer, there is no rest for our men, for they have floors to wax, windows to wash, walls to paint, and repairs to make.

Our cafeteria workers must begin work early, too, in order to cook the food for our four lunch periods. Then they cheerfully serve the tasty and well-balanced meals they have prepared.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: Jeri Hartman, Debbie Rankin, Jan Myers, Karen Frankel, Judi Benner, Cheryl Rockwell, Susie Stagg, center, Mrs. Karazim—Adviser.

Cheerleaders strive for spirit and unity.

It is the duty of Whitmer's cheerleaders to keep school spirit at its highest peak and to promote good feelings among schools. Their main job is to lead cheers at all football and basketball games. This year for the first time they cheered at all home wrestling matches. Both varsity and reserve cheerleaders sold mums for homecoming. The money earned from this project was used to buy new uniforms and sponsor a banquet which was held in the spring. Pep sessions were planned and carried out entirely by the cheerleaders. Another innovation this year was the spontaneous pep sessions held in the front lobby on Fridays before school.

Whitmer's 1963 football team started slowly, but by midseason it righted itself and finished with a 6-3-1 record.

After the Panthers were beaten in the opener at Marion, they lost to Macomber, and won by a forfeit over Start. In their first GLL encounter, the score was tied until the closing moments when Clay pushed over the winning touchdown. This was the last Panther defeat.

The next week the Panthers rolled over Port Clinton 32-0. In the following two weeks the gridgers upset defending champion Fostoria and the Rogers Rams. They thrilled the large homecoming crowd and spoiled Springfield's long trip with a 6-0 win. After the Panthers tied Sylvania, our hopes for the championship were crushed. The team won the first game for the pigskin against Bedford 8-0.

The 1963-1964 varsity basketball team ended the season with a 6-6 record in league play and a 10-8 over-all record.

The Panther cagers were undefeated in the first four games, only to have Sylvania break the string. The following eleven games gave us six wins and five losses. The most thrilling game of the season was against Fostoria who was ranked fourth in the state. The Panthers built up a ten point lead early in the game, and the lead see-sawed until the end of the game. With three seconds showing on the clock, a desperation shot by Fostoria tied the score at 57-57. At the end of the overtime the scoreboard read 61-61. The second overtime broke the tie in favor of Fostoria 65-63. The regular season was closed with a defeat at Rogers.

Whitmer was eliminated in the first round of tournament play by Rogers which was the third Panther loss to the Rams this year.

Drive and stamina are assets to wrestlers.

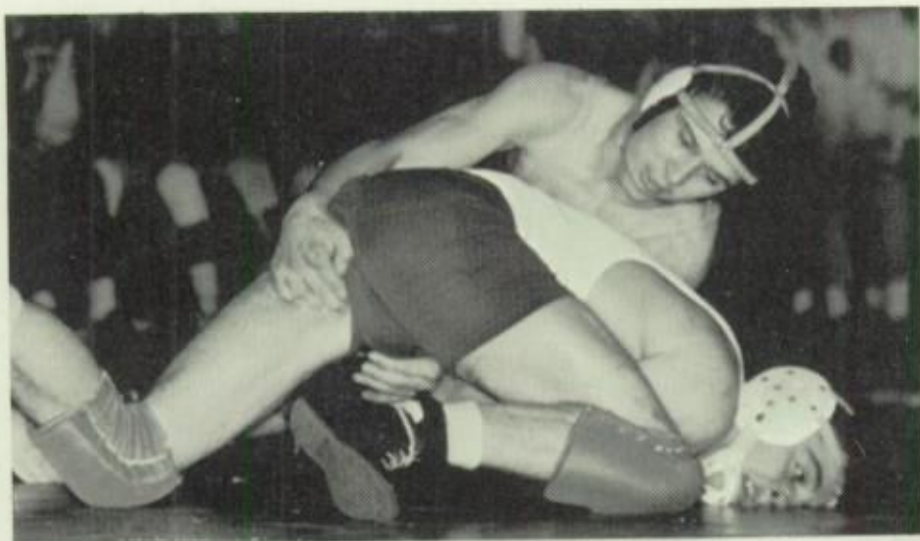

Led by co-captains Gary Eaton and Tom Kwiatkowski, the Panther grapplers made a fine showing this year as they completed the season with an 8 win and 5 loss record. The record was commendable despite the fact that the team was hampered by injuries in the upper weights throughout the season. The bulk of the schedule was made up of some of the toughest wrestling teams in the area. Early in the season, Whitmer hosted a quadrangular meet with Defiance, Findlay, and Maumee. With six of our Panthers winning firsts, Whitmer swept to first place in the meet.

A parents' night, which is to become an annual affair, was held this year at the Clay match. This proved to be quite an exciting contest as the Panthers nosed out the Eagles 19—18.

The team may well be proud of its efforts in the GLL tournament. The grapplers won fourth place, but were only seven points out of first. Rogers took the team championship while Clay and Bedford followed close behind. Although Charlie Mackall had won only one league match during the year, he and Gary Eaton and Don Ekleberry won individual championships for Whitmer.

Bob Mustain, riding his opponent, accumulates valuable time in the 112 lb. match.

120 lb. Tom Kwiatkowski, in the process of reversing his man, adds two points to his score.

Fair play prevails in all seasonal sports.

The bowling season for the Panther keglers started in October and ran through March 7. Whitmer bowlers formed two teams with those having the highest averages on Team 1 and the remainder on Team 2. The Panthers bowled at Great Eastern Lanes against Rogers, Port Clinton, Clay, and Bedford. Ron Bates paced the team with a high average of 180. Larry Moscovitz rolled a 247 for the highest single game, and Ron Bates had the highest three game series with a 596, while Larry Moscovitz and Chet Bialecki tied for second with 571. Team 1 finished the season with a 4th place standing in league action.

Coach Erme's reserve baseball team won the GLL championship with a 12 win and 0 loss record.

The Panther Varsity completed the 1963 baseball season with a 5 win—8 loss record. Although the team didn't finish up in the winning column, our total runs amounted to 67 as opposed to 64 for our opponents.

After knocking off Maumee in the opening game, we lost our next two games to Bedford and Sylvania. Our biggest win of the season came against Ottawa Hills, 17—0.

Our 10—5 defeat of Clay was our first and only league win. Adrian and DeVilbiss, both non-league opponents, were our last victories of the season. The year was rounded out by a one run loss to Rogers, and a 2—0 loss to the Bedford Mules.

In the district tournament, we lost to Woodward 2—0 in a no-hitter.

Dave Dernlan, in the locker room after a hard daily practice, was the team's only undefeated member.

The Panther cindermen, with a record of seven wins and one loss, had a victorious 1963 season which was climaxed by winning the GLL championship. Their bid for a perfect record was marred only by Port Clinton, newcomer to the league last year.

Several school records fell throughout the season. These include: the one hundred yard dash by Dave Carver, the pole vault by Dave Saelzler, and the broad jump by Dave Carver. New records were also set by the speed relay team and the mile relay team.

Starting off in a practice run with the junior high teams are John Day, Tim Kreps, Mike Wray, and Dave Dernlan.

cindermen victoriously capture the GLL crown.

No doubt the biggest win of the year was against Clay. Not only did we tally 94 points for the season's high, but we avenged our only defeat of the 1962 season. Our sole loss was to Port Clinton, who have yet to be beaten in dual competition in eight years.

The trackmen made a fine showing in the DeVilbiss Night Relays, as they placed eighth, scoring more points than any other area school.

The true moment of victory came when the Panthers over-powered all other Great Lakes League schools in winning the GLL championship at the Sylvania stadium.

Dave Carver and Dave Saelzler were chosen as honorary co-captains by their teammates, while sprinter Denny Wotring was picked as most promising sophomore.

Miler Dave Dernlan placed in the district meet to qualify as Whitmer's only competitor in the state meet in Columbus.

Golfers sweep through tournament competition.

The 1963 season was a very rewarding one for Whitmer's link men. Playing their home games at Sunningdale Golf Course, their record was thirteen victories against only one defeat. The team also had a string of tournament victories. At Chippewa Country Club the top four, Marvin Alexander, John Fisher, Tom Poynter, and Bill Phelps won the Great Lakes League crown by five strokes. By having the lowest score for the round, Tom Poynter won medalist honors. In the district meet at Bryan, Ohio, Whitmer's foursome was victorious. John Fisher copped medalist honors there. It was the second year in succession that the Panther swingers had won the District Tournament. In Columbus, the Panthers finished sixteenth in the state.

The Dale Crow Memorial trophy is awarded annually to a senior boy who has excelled in areas of scholarship, leadership, and athletics. It is a tribute to Dale Crow, a former outstanding student and teacher at Whitmer. As a member of Whitmer's teaching staff at the outbreak of World War II, he felt compelled to leave his position in order to serve in the Navy. While flying a mission over Wake Island, his life was ended.

Nick Neuhausel, the 1963 recipient of the Dale Crow award, was a model student in all phases of school life. He participated in Junior Classical League, Hi-Y, Varsity W, and served as chairman of Inter-Club Council. As a junior, he received the Harvard Book Award and was in the Circus. Nick was president of the Honor Society, Vice-President of the senior class, and was second baseman on the baseball team for three years.

Nick is presently attending the University of Cincinnati on a full scholarship in engineering.

Mr. Davis happily presents the Dale Crow trophy to Nick Neuhausel after the awards assembly.

Nick wins top sports and scholastic honors.

You Can't Go Wrong...

Nobody should ever consider his education complete. You can't go wrong by getting as much schooling as possible. So strongly does Toledo Edison feel about this that we finance three scholarships a year at the University of Toledo.

Lots of college graduates find Toledo Edison a good place to work. Investor-owned electric companies offer interesting careers in many fields. You might want to look into this.

Are You In Step With The Times?

You will be when you step through the door of GOODREMONT'S OFFICE SPECIALTIES. You will not only be in step, but far out in front of your competition, when it comes to business and duplicating machines.

The progressive minded business man only has to be introduced to one of our fine lines of equipment to know he need not search any further . . . no matter what his needs may be.

With this confident feeling and sincere belief in the value of our products, we would like to invite you, tomorrows businessmen and businesswomen, to come in and see a demonstration. Witness for yourself, that stepping through the front door at GOODREMONT'S is certainly keeping in step with the times.

► ADLER 'JUNIOR 3'

In our day and age, saving of time and self expression count for a great deal in the life of everyone. The use of a typewriter in private life shows the writer's positive attitude to present day requirements. On an ADLER even the dot on the 'i' and the cross on the 't' illustrates the exquisite style of type which will make your letters a pleasure to read. The top class model like the JUNIOR 3 is not only a sensible and efficient instrument for work but is a pleasure to behold.

► ADLER 'ELECTRIC'

In the ADLER Electric look for all these Adler features: (1) variable key depression (2) automatic, adjustable paper injector and ejector (3) word expander (4) automatic dotting and underscoring including double underscore - repeat space bar - touch-action tabulator bar - impression control - automatic off-switch - silent, non-vibrating motor - noiseless, automatic carriage return and line spacing

► ADDO-X PRINTING CALCULATOR

Model 4541 - Printing calculator for all four operations, with accumulating register, credit balance, multi-memory, and special discount and mark-up keys. Due to its ingenious design, the machine gives speedier, more accurate, and easier calculations. The symmetric keyboard on an Addo-X affords easier vision. The feather-light touch and the rapid change-over of the operating keys allow faster work with less fatigue. The machine calculates automatically, with super-short-cut multiplication --- which means that it automatically chooses the shortest way to the result.

► RONEO '750'

Roneo have produced, in the new '750', a precision machine which could not be simpler to use. Automatically it produces the highest possible standard of work at a surprisingly low running cost. Comparative tests alongside the leading duplicators from the United Kingdom, the United States and the continent of Europe show that no other duplicator in the world can give you the advantage of Roneo '750'. Form your own conclusions by asking for a comparative demonstration in your own office alongside any machines you choose.

What a wonderful Open World

Have you noticed schools like this on your travels? Probably, because new buildings are springing up everywhere. They are beautiful and functional structures with large glass areas to create an "open-world" atmosphere to eliminate the feeling of being boxed in.

Wherever you live, work, shop or travel, you'll find L-O-F Glass making it more enjoyable. In homes, motels, schools and stores. In offices and factories. In hospitals and churches. In cars, buses, trains and planes.

There's an L-O-F Glass that insulates windows. It's called Thermopane® insulating glass. Another subdues sun heat and glare. L-O-F Glass that makes automobiles safer. L-O-F Glass to do a thousand things.

And when anyone needs glass, there's an authority on it nearby—your local independent L-O-F Glass Distributor or Dealer. His name is in the telephone book Yellow Pages under "Glass". Call him.

Laboratories, shops and studyrooms are separated from twin classroom buildings by a broad, central court, Ithaca Senior High School, Ithaca, N.Y. Architects: Perkins & Will, White Plains, N.Y.

Linda,
you're really a cute kid and it's been fun these last 2 years.
I hope we have fun next year,
while we're winning the volleyball

Love ya.

1963 Oracle

World mourns death of president.

The staff would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people whose co-operation and assistance made the 1964 Oracle possible. We would like to extend special thanks to the faculty, particularly Mrs. Towe, the administration, H. A. Powell Studies, and the American Yearbook Company.

We hope that you will enjoy your Oracle as much as we have enjoyed putting it together for you. It will always serve as a reference book and a memory book through which you can relive your school days whenever you desire.
